JEFFREY LURIE

CHAIRMAN/ CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Driven by a tireless pursuit of a Super Bowl championship for the city of Philadelphia, Jeffrey Lurie has shaped the Eagles into one of the most successful organizations in professional sports on and off the field. Along the way he has fueled energy, optimism, and pride throughout the entire organization, and has provided first-class working facilities along with a family atmosphere.

Winning is what drives Lurie and whether it has been on the field or off, the Eagles have been one of the most successful franchises in all of sports under his stewardship.

Taking over a franchise that made the playoffs just 14 times in a 62-year span (23%), the Eagles have been a perennial Super Bowl contender under Lurie, earning playoff berths in 11 of his 17 years as owner (65%). In fact, only three teams have made more playoff appearances than the Eagles since 1995, Lurie's first full season as owner. The Eagles have a greater overall winning percentage and appeared in more playoff games (22) and won more (11) than any other ownership group in team history.

Along the way, the Eagles have captured six NFC East division crowns in a span of 11 years. From 2000-09, the Eagles won an NFC-best 103 regular season games and 10 playoff contests, while capturing five division titles (trailing only New England's 6). As such the Eagles became just the 13th team to top the century mark in wins over the course of one decade.

The Eagles streak of double-digit wins in five straight seasons from 2000-04 was the 11th such occurrence in NFL history and the first since San Francisco did so in the previous decade. With three 12-plus wins from 2002-04, Philadelphia became the sixth franchise in league history to accomplish that feat.

"I can honestly say that every single one of our employees, from players to coaches to everyone in the front office, is squarely focused on doing whatever it takes to win it all, even if the steps we have to take towards that goal are not always popular," said Lurie. "Knowing that everyone is pushing themselves to be better year after year is important, and I want our fans to know that every member of this organization shares their desire to win a Super Bowl championship."

Early in Lurie's tenure in Philadelphia one of his goals was to upgrade the Eagles working environment. The Eagles have since moved into two state-of-the-art facilities, Lincoln Financial Field and NovaCare Complex, their day-to-day workplace since 2001.

Lurie is well respected among the NFL's top hierarchy as he serves on the NFL's Finance Committee, Broadcast Committee, Stadium Committee, International Committee, and the Super Bowl Advisory Committee.

Since becoming owner of the Eagles, Lurie, who was named NFL owner of the year by The Sporting News in 1995 and by Pro Football Insider in 2000, has gone about the business of shaping the football team and the franchise on and off the field.

"I am proud to call Philadelphia my home and our fans are extremely deserving of having terrific football played here," says Lurie. "We appreciate them. On the road, they are there by the thousands. At home, they are always a 12th man. You just so badly want to deliver winning football and championship football to them. This is a world-class city with an amazing thirst for football. I have said so many times, winning the Super Bowl is the ultimate goal of this organization."

Describing his philosophy of ownership as a "partnership between the city, the fans and the team," one of Lurie's primary objectives early in his time in Philadelphia was the formation of Eagles Youth Partnership, the team's non-profit, charitable wing. Since its inception in 1995, EYP has developed into one of the most innovative and dynamic non-profit organizations in Philadelphia and in the entire world of sports philanthropy.

JEFFREY LURIE

The Eagles, based on the work of EYP, Tackling Breast Cancer, and Go Green! initiatives earned the coveted 2011 Sport Team of the Year award by Beyond Sport, a global organization that promotes, develops and funds the use of sport to create positive social change across the world. They were a finalist for that award in 2010.

The Philadelphia Business Journal honored the Eagles as one of Philadelphia's top charitable corporations in 2010. "That giving attitude made them a winner in every category of the Corporate Philanthropy Awards."

In 2010, Jeffrey Lurie and Christina Weiss Lurie were honored by Drexel University's LeBow College of Business with their 2010 Business Leaders of the Year award.

In 2005, EYP was awarded the inaugural Steve Patterson Award for Excellence in Sports Philanthropy, established by the Sports Philanthropy Project and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

In 1996, Lurie was the recipient of the Torch of Liberty Award conferred by the Anti-Defamation League of Philadelphia and a year later was honored by Philadelphia's Operation Understanding, an acclaimed group that fosters interracial harmony among future leaders of the African-American and Jewish communities.

Under Lurie's tenure, the Eagles have also developed a substantial Go Green program, a ground-breaking initiative to better the environment by creating and sustaining programs that improve the quality of life in the Philadelphia region, green the environment and reduce the team's impact on the planet. Jeffrey Lurie and Christina Weiss Lurie received the 2008 Ongoing Commitment Award from the Environmental Media Association for their efforts.

Lurie is a director of the NLM Family Foundation, which devotes much of their resources to autism research and education. NLM co-funded a short documentary film entitled Autism Is A World that received a nomination for a 2005 Academy Award.

More recently, the Lurie Family Foundation was established with an emphasis on health issues, especially in the areas of autism and cancer research. The Foundation also supports documentaries addressing global issues through Screen Pass Pictures, a documentary film company.

"Autism is one of the most under-funded conditions in the country, and we need to raise awareness," said Lurie. "Those who have autism are wonderful people, usually highly intelligent, sweet and caring. They are often unable to effectively communicate with others. A great deal more research needs to be done."

For his efforts, Lurie was honored by Autism Speaks at the Kickoff for a Cure IV in 2009.

DECADE OF SUCCESS

DON SMOLENSKI

PRESIDENT

Don Smolenski, a longtime leader in the Eagles front office and a veteran sports executive, was named the club's president in June, 2012. His promotion capped a steady rise through the executive ranks of one of the NFL's premiere franchises.

As President, Smolenski directs the club's business and strategic efforts, including sales, marketing, communications and operations. He is known for his collaborative, easygoing style, financial acumen and long-term view and for playing a key role in significant projects from the construction of Lincoln Financial Field to the club's internationally recognized environmental and philanthropic programs.

Smolenski joined the Eagles in 1998 as the club's Chief Financial Officer and was later promoted to Senior Vice President/Chief Financial Officer. In 2010 he was named the club's Chief Operating Officer.

Smolenski is also a driving force in the team's environmental initiatives. Through its Go Green! program, the Eagles have emerged as a leader in environmental stewardship. The team has become a green leader in the sports industry through its conservation efforts, recycling programs, and use of renewable energy.

He serves as secretary on the board of the Sports Complex Special Services District, a non-profit entity charged with improving the quality of life for the neighborhood surrounding the stadium, since its inception in 2003. He is involved with Leadership Philadelphia, a non-profit organization that promotes leadership and community involvement in the city of Philadelphia. Don also sits on the board of the Philadelphia Sports Congress. For the past two years, he has served as a board member and treasurer for Eagles Youth Partnership.

Before joining the Eagles, Smolenski served as Chief Financial Officer for the International Hockey League, where he oversaw all league financial matters and played an integral role in the expansion of the league. Through the development of expansion models and the analysis of league performance models, Smolenski saw the league grow from 12 to 19 teams.

HOWIE ROSEMAN

GENERAL MANAGER

Howie Roseman is in his 13th season in Philadelphia and his 3rd as the Eagles general manager after being promoted to his current post on January 29, 2010. Roseman spent the previous two seasons as the team's vice president of player personnel.

Known as one of the most aggressive general managers in the league, Roseman has engineered a whopping 31 trades during his three-year reign. In addition, the Eagles have drafted a league-high 33 players over that span.

In the first year of his new role in 2010, Roseman oversaw a major overhaul of the roster, making it one of the youngest in the NFL (average age on opening day was 25.9). That revamped Eagles squad, however, earned an NFC East division championship.

"He's one of the brightest young guys in the league," said Eagles chairman Jeffrey Lurie. "I'm very excited about what he brings to the table."

Since Roseman became the team's vice president of player personnel in 2009, the Eagles have added several key players to their arsenal, including Pro Bowlers Jason Peters, Michael Vick, LeSean McCoy, and Jason Babin. Several other prominent starters - LB DeMeco Ryans, CBs Nnamdi Asomugha and Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie and G Evan Mathis - have been acquired under the guidance of Roseman.

In the 2012 offseason, the Eagles made it a priority to retain the services of many of their own players and Roseman aggressively negotiated and inked long-term deals for DeSean Jackson, McCoy, Trent Cole, Todd Herremans, Mathis and Cullen Jenkins. He also engineered a blockbuster trade for Ryans, a two-time All-Pro linebacker, and signed free agent LT Demetress Bell just days after learning of the Achilles injury suffered by the All-Pro Peters.

"Howie brings a great amount of energy each and every day," said Eagles head coach Andy Reid. "It's infectious and it has a positive effect on how he does his job. Plus, he's very organized, he's a good leader and he has a detailed plan for every situation we encounter. He's played a big role in how we've been able to manage all the changes to our roster in recent years."

That tenacity, creativity and ability to develop and nurture positive relationships in every part of his job has played a significant role in Roseman's ascent within the Eagles organization. He has an endless tank of energy that defines his personality and fuels his quest for a Super Bowl championship.

The youngest GM in the league, Roseman (37 years old) says it has been his dream to be an NFL general manager since he was a kid. "I'd be 9 or 10 [years old], people would ask what I was going to do. I'd say, I'm going to be the general manager of a National Football League team. They used to laugh."

After relentlessly pursuing jobs in the front office of an NFL team, Roseman finally got his foot in the door with the Eagles in 2000 as salary cap/staff counsel, and eventually worked his way up to his dream job.

Roseman was elevated to director of football administration in 2003 and to vice president of football administration in 2006. In this role, Roseman worked in the personnel department evaluating players around the NFL and for the draft. He also represented the team to the NFL on contract, salary cap, and player personnel matters.

In 2007, Roseman was invited to participate in the NFL-Stanford Program for managers at the Stanford Graduate School of Business, a program developed by the NFL to promote development of leaders within the league.

Roseman is also active in the Philadelphia-area community, contributing to a variety of initiatives involving military and children. In fact, he was named Honorary Commander for the Joint Base McGuire-Dix-Lakehurst for his continued efforts with the military.

Born in Brooklyn, NY, Roseman earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Florida before earning a JD degree from Fordham Law School. Howie and his wife, Mindy, reside in suburban Philadelphia with their three children.

ANDY REID

HEAD COACH/EXECUTIVE VP OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

21st year in NFL / 14th in Philadelphia
College: Brigham Young

One of the longest tenured and most successful coaches in professional sports, Andy Reid utilizes a passionate, yet workmanlike approach as the head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles. A former offensive lineman at BYU, Reid still lives and works with those humble principles he learned during his time in the trenches.

His vision, his dedication, and his organizational skills have been impeccable during his tenure in Philadelphia. For those reasons, he was promoted to head coach/executive VP of football operations on May 8, 2001. Reid's contract was extended to 2010 during the 2004 season and to 2013 during the 2009 season.

Reid appreciates his time working for this city's beloved football team, "I love Philadelphia. The fans, there is nothing like them. I was on the other side of that when I was at Green Bay coming in as an opponent. I always said, 'boy you'd love to play for that crew there.' The fans here are unbelievable. They're fair. If we stink they let us know we stink, if we're doing okay they let us know we're doing okay, but they're always there. My hat is off to them and that support is phenomenal, absolutely phenomenal."

The results of Reid's labor have been very tangible and quite remarkable since taking over a 3-13 club on January 11, 1999. With 136 wins during his Eagles tenure (including playoffs), Reid is in 22nd place on the league's all-time list. Along the way, he has earned NFL coach of the year honors three times, and compiled the best win total, winning percentage, and playoff victory total (10) in team history. He has captured six division titles and five trips to the NFC Championship game.

Among coaches with 200 games under their belt, Reid's winning percentage ranks 10th all-time and 2nd among active coaches (Bill Belichick). Reid is also one of five active coaches in the NFL to have reached the century mark in wins, joining Belichick, Mike Shanahan, Tom Coughlin and Jeff Fisher.

Reid is the longest tenured head coach in the NFL and the 4th longest tenured head coach in the four major professional sports. In fact, he is the 9th coach in NFL history to remain with his original team for 13-or-more years, and since 1990, is one of three first-time head coaches to do so: Reid (since 1999), Fisher (1994-2010), and Bill Cowher (1992-2006 with the Pittsburgh Steelers).

"I have as much respect for Andy Reid as I have for anyone that has ever coached in the NFL," said Hall of Fame coach John Madden. "And it's really about the way he approaches his job. His fundamentals, the way he works with coaches and the way he works with players are all top notch. Plus he's a good guy, has a great sense of humor and he's very bright. That's the first thing that impressed me about him was how smart of a guy he is. And when the NFL appointed me to conduct the competition subcommittee, he was the first guy I called. He knows the game, he knows the history and he's passionate about this sport."

ANDY REID

The Eagles captured their 6th NFC East division title under Reid in 2010 as they set franchise records in points scored (439, 3rd in NFL), total net yards (6,230, 2nd in NFL) and yards per rushing attempt (5.4, 1st in NFL). Along the way, Reid played a vital role in the rebirth of QB Michael Vick, who earned Comeback player of the year honors as well as a Pro Bowl berth. Reid, himself, earned coach of the year honors from the Maxwell Football Club.

In 2008, Reid became the 37th coach to reach the 100-win plateau, and the 22nd to win 100 with one franchise. He overcame a 5-5-1 start to reach the NFC Championship game.

In 2006, the Eagles lost six of their first 11 games and two of their most explosive players in Donovan McNabb and Jevon Kearse, but Reid led a season-ending, five-game win streak to capture the NFC East division title.

The 2004 Eagles clinched the NFC East title with five games remaining in the regular season and the #1 seed in the NFC playoffs after a 13-1 start. Along the way, Reid passed Greasy Neale for the most wins in franchise history as the Eagles earned their first trip to the Super Bowl since 1980 .

In 2003, the Eagles overcame a 0-2 start and a slew of injuries to post their second consecutive 12-win season. A year earlier, Reid was the overwhelming choice as the NFL's coach of the year as the Eagles thrived without the services of McNabb to still capture home field advantage in the NFC playoffs.

After a 5-11 mark in his first season, Reid led the 2000 Eagles to the greatest turnaround in franchise history, finishing 2nd in the NFC East at 11-5 and earning a trip to the NFC Divisional Playoffs. For his efforts, Reid was named the NFL's coach of the year by the Maxwell Football Club, The Sporting News, and Football Digest.

Eagles Chairman/CEO Jeffrey Lurie said, "I've always said, he's like a CEO on the field. He understands the big picture and the short-term picture. You have to always balance the two. Disciplined. Prepared. Smart. It's an awfully good combination.

"Andy has intellectual capital. He has no ego. To him, it's all about building team community. He's comfortable with himself. He's not paranoid, worried about what others think or report. He's genuine and people follow that."

Reid came to the Eagles after spending seven seasons as an assistant coach with Green Bay under Mike Holmgren. During that span, the Packers reached the playoffs six times and defeated New England in Super Bowl XXXI.

"I am a huge fan of Coach Reid's," said NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell. "He is a person I have tremendous respect for as a coach and family man. Andy has been very helpful to me as Commissioner. He has tremendous insight into our game and we are fortunate to have him in the NFL."

Offensive Lineman Mentality:

Reid attributes his modest, selfless nature to his days as an offensive lineman in high school and college saying, "I'm glad to be of offensive lineman roots. That way you don't lose perspective amidst the glamour and the monetary things. You have that hard-work thing ingrained in your brain. You understand you haven't gotten to where you are without hard work."

Said Lurie, "He won't talk about himself. But he has a tremendous work ethic and a sense of honesty and genuineness. And he's a great leader. Everyone respects his human qualities."

REID'S COACHING INFLUENCES

Reid on his coaching influences ...

Hiro Tanaka, John Marshall HS, Los Angeles: "He took a bunch of kids of different races and combined them into making a team. We never had a problem."

Jim Sartoris, Glendale Junior College: "I was in that first group, and he came in, took a terrible program and built it back up into a championship team. I was right there for that."

LaVell Edwards, BYU: "I saw a man who knew how to treat people. He didn't care who you were, what you were about. At the same time, now, he could crack the whip. He never turned away an autograph seeker. And he didn't lose his cool during tough times."

Vic Rowan, San Francisco State: "Whenever he saw an interesting play on TV, he'd call up that coach and ask him to go through it with him in detail. He collected playbooks from all over the place."

Bob Stull, UTEP/Missouri: "He showed me how an ex-offensive lineman and offensive line coach could become a offensive coordinator and a great head coach."

Mike Holmgren, Green Bay: "I had a hard time believing anyone did it better than him when I was working for him."

ANDY REID

That work ethic was developed growing up in Los Angeles. Reid's mother, Elizabeth, was a radiologist while his father, Walter, was an artist working primarily on backdrops for theatrical sets. Father and son would leave their house at 4:30 a.m. Walter, who worked across the street from junior high, would drop Andy off at the school and the younger Reid would work on various projects in the wood shop. To this day, he is a skilled craftsman who has built cabinets and clocks. He also enjoys tinkering with old cars and, in fact, owns a 1928 "Model A" Ford.

Climbing the Coaching Ladder:

Reid enjoyed a two-year stint as the Packers quarterbacks coach, working with Brett Favre from 1997-98. Reid took over that role after Marty Mornhinweg departed to become San Francisco's offensive coordinator under Steve Mariucci, the original quarterbacks coach on Holmgren's staff.

In 1997, Green Bay won its 2nd straight NFC crown and Favre garnered league MVP honors for the third consecutive season. Prior to tutoring Green Bay's quarterbacks, Reid oversaw the tight ends, while assisting offensive line coach Tom Lovat. Under Reid's watch, Mark Chmura and Keith Jackson earned trips to the Pro Bowl.

It was in his first years with Green Bay that Holmgren urged Reid to learn the entire offensive system, not just the roles of the offensive line and tight ends. "It was his curiosity, the questions he would ask, his note taking," said Holmgren. "He was just a sponge."

In fact, Holmgren placed the "supervisory" tag on Reid in 1996 to prevent NFL clubs from hiring him as anything other than a head coach unless given permission.

A tackle and guard at Brigham Young University from 1979-81, Reid entered the coaching ranks as a graduate assistant under LaVell Edwards in 1982. It was at BYU that Reid met and worked with Holmgren, who served as the quarterbacks coach.

Reid next moved to San Francisco State in 1983 and helped them lead the nation in passing and total offense three consecutive years (1983-85). He went on to develop quality offensive lines at Northern Arizona, Texas-El Paso, and Missouri.

Personal:

Born Andrew Walter Reid in Los Angeles on March 19, 1958, Reid has an older brother, Reginald. Raised not far from Dodger Stadium, Reid was a devoted fan of both the Dodgers and Rams (Merlin Olsen and Deacon Jones in particular). He went on to attend John Marshall High School in LA and Glendale (CA) Junior College.

In 2012, Reid was inducted into the Marshall High School athletic Hall of Fame and, in 2003, was named to the Glendale Junior College Hall of Fame.

He attended Brigham Young University where he earned both a bachelor's degree in physical education and a master's degree in professional leadership in physical education and athletics.

As a player at BYU, Reid was also a columnist for the Provo Daily Herald. "I had my own little column," said Reid, who once longed to be a writer for Sports Illustrated. "I loved Jim Murray (a long-time columnist with the Los Angeles Times). I wrote a column trying to be like Jim. The editors took it easy on me. I enjoyed writing."

It was at a physical education class at BYU that Reid met the woman who would become his wife, Tammy. "What attracted me to him more than anything was his character. He's just a really good guy, very honorable and very conscientious." Reid converted to the Mormon faith in 1979 which Tammy and her family had practiced.

They have five children, sons Spencer, Britt and the late Garrett, and daughters Drew Ann and Crosby.

Lincoln Financial Field (seating capacity - 69,144)
The construction of Lincoln Financial Field began on May 7, 2001, and has been the home of the Eagles since the start of the 2003 season. The state-of-the-art venue has also hosted college football games, concerts, international soccer games and college lacrosse championships. With a capacity of 69,144 "The Linc" has sold out every Eagles game since 2003, including two NFC Championships (2003 and 2004).

NOVACARE COMPLEX

The home of the Philadelphia Eagles daily operations since the spring of 2001, the NovaCare Complex resulted from a successful partnership with NovaCare Rehabilitation. The 108,000-square-foot NovaCare Complex has three natural grass football fields, a 70-yard indoor practice field, state-of-the-art training and weight rooms, locker and meeting rooms, a media center, a fully-staffed cafeteria, and a 189-seat auditorium. NATE ALLEN 29

SAFETY

6-1, 210	Born 11/30/87 in Fort Myers, FL
South Florida	Cape Coral HS, Cape Coral, FL
3rd year	Acquired - D2-10 (37th overall)

An intelligent and athletic safety, Nate Allen re-established himself as the starting free safety for the Eagles after being hampered by a knee injury that required season-ending surgery in 2010. A 2010 second-round draft choice of the Birds, Allen compiled nine career interceptions and three touchdowns at South Florida en route to second-team All-Big East honors during his senior season.

BIRDSEED

- Credits his father Jackie, with having the greatest influence on his life and career. Jackie played professional basketball in Europe and now coaches at Ft. Myers Middle School, where he also works security. "He's always been my role model, and he enstilled in me the value of working hard and putting the Lord first in everything you do."
- Played every position while in Pop Warner football, and said people began to notice him because he was always in the mix on every play: "People tell me that when I started playing, I would be the kicker on a kickoff and I would beat everyone down the field by a long stretch to make a tackle."
- Most underrated attribute of being a safety: "The mental aspects of the position. You have to be able to think quick on your feet because you are the quarterback of the defense and have to help everyone line up. We rely on reads both before and during the play to decode what the offense is doing."
- Favorite part of playing in Philadelphia: "The fans. They're so passionate, and you know they'll always be there. They're honest and will let you know how they feel, but they're die-hard and very supportive."

PERSONAL

- Son of Jackie and Darlene Allen. Darlene teaches business and typing classes at Cape Coral HS
- Also an accomplished basketball player, averaged 16.3 points, 6.6 rebounds and 2.9 steals in 2005-06. Went on to score more than 1,000 points during his career
- An honor roll student, graduated with a 3.6 grade point average and was a member of the National Honor Society

- Has a younger sister, Kelsey, and an older brother, Marcel

COLT ANDERSON 30

SAFETY

5-10, 194	Born 10/25/85 in Butte, MT
Montana	Butte (MT) HS, Butte, MT
3rd year	Acquired - FA [Min] 2010

Whether it is a key block on a long punt return or a clutch open-field tackle on a kickoff return, Colt Anderson does it all for the Eagles special teams units. He is in his third season in Philadelphia after being plucked off Minnesota's practice squad midway through the 2010 season. This undrafted defensive back from Montana was named the Eagles special teams MVP by a vote of his teammates in 2011 even after missing the final four games of the season with a knee injury. He was also voted by his peers as the team's playoff captain in 2010. Anderson was a two-time MVP as a safety at Montana. He was originally signed by Minnesota as a rookie free agent in 2009. The Butte, MT native missed the entire preseason while continuing to recover from offseason ACL surgery.

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Was voted by his teammates as the special teams MVP. Led the team in special teams production points (168) and special teams tackles (12) before being placed on Injured Reserve on 12/5
- Recovered a blocked field goal attempt by David Akers vs. SF (10/2) (King Dunlap blocked it) and returned it 10 yards, leading to an Eagles FG

MIRROR IMAGE

Colt Anderson is walking in the footsteps of another Montana alum and former Eagles safety - Tim Hauck. Hauck was his position coach at Montana and, just like his mentor, Anderson was a walk-on for the Grizzlies. "He was a big influence on me," says Anderson. "He was a former Montana walk-on and he taught me that size doesn't matter."

QUOTES

- Eagles special teams coordinator Bobby April on Anderson: "In my mind, he's got the greatest power any player could have. He's grateful. He's got the power of gratitude. I think that's true for any person, not just player. He takes advantage of every single thing that goes on. I think that sets him apart, really, from his skill."
- More April on Anderson's play: "He plays with great intensity, great judgment, great confidence, and he has a knack, because people do game plan him. That was a great, great pickup for us. We were very fortunate that he was available, because when we picked him up he was certainly able to play for any of the 32 teams in this league"

PERSONAL

- He and his wife, Keelie, have a son, Cage (born 10/25/11) and reside in Philadelphia
- His father Mike, is a school teacher while his mother, Michele is a dance teacher in Butte, MT. Has two older brothers, Beau and Luke, and a younger sister, Brianna
- His uncles, Dave Manovich (1971-73) and Pat Sullivan (1976-79), both played football at the University of Montana
- Initally started playing football in the 4th grade because his dad was a coach and his brothers played the sport. "I was the little runt running around playing football with my brothers and their friends," recalled Anderson. "I started out as a lineman because I weighed too much, but I was still fast."
- Twitter handle: @AndersonColt
- An offensive and defensive team MVP as a senior at Butte (MT) HS, Anderson finished his career with 310 tackles and nine intereptions. As a running back, he totaled 850 rushing yards and 12 touchdowns
- Earned a degree in business information systems, while also earning a teaching certificate in secondary education
- Pregame ritual: Reciting a chant that was created by his little league football team
- Favorite sports moment growing up: As a senior at Montana when the Grizzlies broke out their throwback uniforms against their rival, Montana State. "We surprised everyone when we came out in those jerseys and, to top it all off, we won the game." He finished the contest with six tackles and a fumble recovery
- Guilty pleasure: Sweets, especially his mother's chocolate cake and chocolate chip cookies

NNAMDI ASOMUGHA 24

CORNERBACK

6-2, 210	Born 7/6/1981 in Lafayette, LA
California	Narbonne HS, Los Angeles, CA
10th year	Acquired - FA (Oak) 2011

Pro Bowls: 2008, 2009, 2010

A three-time Pro Bowler and four-time All Pro selection, and widely regarded as one of the elite cornerbacks in the NFL, Nnamdi Asomugha is now in his second season in Philadelphia after signing a five-year contract on the first day of free agency in 2011. One of the most dedicated athletes in the community, Asomugha has been heavily involved in many different community initiatives in his time in the NFL, including his own foundation, which was formally established in 2005. Originally a first-round pick of the Raiders in 2003, Asomugha has collected 14 interceptions and two sacks in his nine-year career.

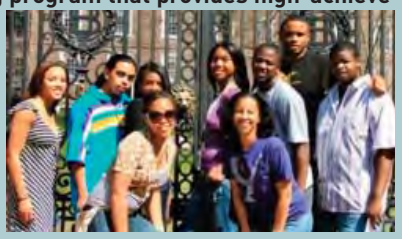
CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Earned Pro Bowl honors in three consecutive seasons from 2008-10 and was an alternate in both 2006 and 2007
- Garnered All-Pro selections in four of the last six seasons (2006, 2008-10)
- Collected 11 career interceptions and two sacks during his eight-year career in Oakland
- Served as the cornerstone of a defense that allowed a league-low 2,177 completions during his eight years in Oakland. In fact, the Raiders finished either first or second in each of the last five seasons in that category

THE ASOMUGHA FOUNDATION

Formally established in 2005, Nnamdi Asomugha and his family formed the Asomugha Foundation to have a positive impact on disadvantaged youth in the United States and the underpriveleged orphans and widows in Africa through education and empowerment. The foundation comprises two primary programs:

Asomugha College Tour for Scholars (ACTS) is an annual college tour and mentoring program that provides high-achieving high school students of color with the opportunity to visit college campuses across the country. In 2012, Nnamdi included four high school students from Philadelphia and took the group on college visits throughout the Chicago area. Said Nnamdi of the program: "Each tour is something different for me. I've come to realize that the students who finish the tour are completely different from the ones who start it. It feels like so much becomes opened up to them. A lot of them have never been outside of their area or on a plane before. But then they get over their shyness and uneasiness. I start to see them transform, and that is one of the greatest joys for me."



Orphans and Widows in Need (OWIN) provides aid to a growing population of widows and orphans in Africa and positions them for economic success and independence through education, spiritual guidance and vocational training.

METICULOUS PREPARATION

A former college safety, the transition to All-Pro NFL cornerback was far from easy for Asomugha. Every spring, when he begins his footwork drills, he does so in a crouch that makes him three inches shorter. His thighs burn in March and April so that he can move effortlessly by training camp. "No one knows the work that goes into making it look like that," Asomugha says. "Every offseason, because of my 6-3 frame and long legs, I have to go above and beyond as far as drills to maintain quickness, to be able to drop."
Asomugha also keeps a notebook with nuggets on every receiver, quarterback and offensive coordinator he's ever faced, which is something he learned from former teammate and mentor Rod Woodson.

NNAMDI ASOMUGHA

- Also a standout basketball player who earned all-league honors as a junior and senior guard
- Distributes backpacks to the incoming freshmen each year at Narbonne. He also outfits the football and basketball team with shoes

MAGIC LESSONS

A huge fan of the Los Angeles Lakers, Nnamdi's favorite athlete growing up was Magic Johnson. "My favorite piece of clothing as a kid was his jersey. I wore that jersey every day until it didn't fit any longer," recalls Nnamdi.

Nnamdi's parents instilled in him at a very young age the notion of helping others in need. On one of his first visits to Nigeria with his family, Nnamdi remembers seeing that same jersey he once wore on another boy. "I could tell by looking at it that it had been mine. When I saw the jersey, I never said a word. I was taught at a very young age that giving to others is what we're supposed to do. My parents were among the first families from their area to leave Nigeria and come to America. Once they got here, whatever they earned, they made sure to send some of it back. And they made sure that their children understood the importance of giving back, too."

A FOOTBALL MIND

Both teammates and coaches praise the work and preparation that Asomugha puts into his game.

Defensive coordinator Juan Castillo

"He's more than just a player. He understands football. It's important to him. You see him drawing up coverages. It's awesome to have a guy like that I can talk to."

CB Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie

"I have never seen anyone ask so many questions about a defense. He wants to know everything everybody's doing. That gives him a feel of what he can or cannot do in a defense."

WR Jason Avant

"The most remarkable thing about him is his humility. That is such a rarity at his position. Humility says a lot. When you become arrogant and prideful, you stop learning. He's steadily adding things to his game because he's so humble. That's the most galvanizing thing about him."

JASON AVANT 81

WIDE RECEIVER

6-0, 212	Born 4/20/83 in Chicago, IL
Michigan	Carver HS, Chicago, IL
7th year	Acquired - D4b-06 (109th overall)

A physical and sure-handed receiver, Jason Avant is a reliable weapon for the Eagles with most of his work coming inside the unfriendly confines of the hashmarks. He posted a career-high 52 catches in 2011 and, in fact, has increased his reception total in each of his first six seasons since joining the team as fourth round draft choice in 2006. Avant was awarded with a five-year contract extension in 2010.

BIRDSEED

- One of the most humble and determined players in the sport of football, Avant is proud to have devoted his life to Jesus Christ on May 4, 2003 (during his sophomore year at Michigan) at the True Worship Church in Detroit. He was inspired that day by Pastor Lovell Cannon. He credits his late grandmother, Lillie, for trying to instill those values in him at an early age. "Growing up with her amongst all the gangs, violence and shootings at our house, she constantly prayed for me to live life the right way. It's now in my heart. It's my life." He refers to May 4 as his Christian birthday

PIANO MAN

Avant owns and plays an 88-key digital piano at his home. "I can play about 12 gospel songs start to finish. I'm not a pro by any means, just still trying to perfect my skills. I just want to worship God in every way I can. I hear things at church and then I go and try to play them at home."

- Has become very involved in "freelance" social work through his church, and hopes to stay involved after his football playing days are over. His main focus is on child and teen development
- Lives by this quote from his college position coach, Erik "Soup" Campbell: "Don't count your catches, count your wins"
- Still finds time to work out with his personal trainer, Will Franklin, a body builder based in Chicago. Franklin, who also trained former Patriots safety and Chicago native Rodney Harrison, uses a lot of motivational tools to work his athletes like competitive workout sessions among his athletes and late night or early morning phone calls with a lot of good-natured trash talking. Said Avant, "His intensity is crazy and he has us competing against each other during each rep of each exercise."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Including playoffs, Avant has converted 60 of his 69 career 3rd-down catches for 1st downs. "It's called taxing," said Avant about playing in the slot. "You go over the middle, you're going to have to pay a tax. You can do business there, but you're going to get taxed. And that tax is getting hit. You get used to it."

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Posted career highs in receptions (52) and yards (679), while converting 15 of his 17 third down catches for a first down
- Became the 24th player in Eagles history to reach the 200-catch plateau with two receptions at Mia (12/11)
- Tallied 8 catches for 110 yards and a TD (a one-yard grab from Vince Young) vs. NE (11/27)
- Converted two clutch 3rd and long situations (20 yards on a 3rd-and-8 and 24 yards on 3rd and 11) that led to 10 points as part of a 5-74 receiving game vs. Dal (10/30)
- Caught a career-high 9 passes for 139 yards at Buf. (10/9)
- Tallied a season-high 6 catches and 69 yards vs. SF (10/2)
- Grabbed three catches on opening day at StL (9/11), including two on third down that resulted in a first down. Both plays kept drives alive that led to 10 points

MENTORS OF THE MENTOR

Avant overcame a rough childhood to become a fine football player and an even better human being, who now finds himself mentoring other young teammates during quiet moments in the locker room. Three influential people early in his life were his trainer, Will Franklin, his wide receivers coach in college, Erik "Soup" Campbell, and former NFL safety and Chicago native Rodney Harrison.

Campbell, Iowa's wide receivers coach: "I consider Jason one of my sons. He certainly wasn't born with a silver spoon in his mouth. He's one of the hardest working receivers I have ever been around. I still use him as an example to my young guys in college of how a guy like Jason, who wasn't the biggest, fastest, or most talented guy, can work hard to succeed and master his craft."

Harrison, who met him during Avant's sophomore year of high school: ""He's like a little brother that I never had ... He did it the right way. He didn't complain. He didn't cry to anyone. He's always positive. I saw a young guy who kept fighting, kept pushing back and thought 'this little cat has got some heart.' Jason has toughness and pride, but not arrogance, and that's the thing that really attracted me to Jason. He was a very humble kid, very soft-spoken, but very determined not to let anyone push him around."

Harrison on Franklin's influence: "Will did a terrific job of just bringing the inner beast out of Jason. I think he made him realize his potential. Jason got bigger, he got stronger, he got faster and he became more confident."

PERSONAL

- He and his wife, Stacy, have two daughters, Jala and Amaya ... Jason likes to use the acronym of Jala: "Jason Avant's Little Angel"
- Is the son of the late Jerry Avant and Claudette Patrick ... also has a special aunt, Shirley, who he said, "took me in after my grandmother got up there in age. She ended up taking care of both of us."
- His older brother, Edwon Simmons, was a prolific baseball player, who was drafted by Baltimore, and was a safety at San Diego State. He now is a teacher for after-school programs for young men in Chicago and is a football coach at Leo High School
- Earned All-America honors as a receiver and safety at Carver HS in Chicago, IL, where he set school records for catches (148), yards (2,150), TDs (37), and INTs (18). Did not play football until his sophomore year and played WR for the first time as a junior
- Also excelled in basketball and helped lead his team to the Elite 8 of the Chicago public school playoffs. Was recruited to play basketball at UCLA, TCU, and Illinois
- Is an avid player of Scrabble, his favorite board game. "It makes you think and it keeps your mind active. It also helps me communicate with all the words I've learned from playing."
- Avant hosts an annual Christ First Football Camp that alternates between his hometown of Chicago and Philadelphia. The camp feature lessons in football and Christianity.
- Teammate you have had the most respect for: Brian Dawkins. "I like the way he carried himself in the locker room, what he stood for and how he played. It's rare to find guys that practice what they preach. And he did it."
- Most underrated aspect of his position: Awareness "It's highly underrated. A lot of times, there's a clock that goes off in your head and the ball has been released already. It's timing. It's just a feeling. It's a talent that you work on with your quarterbacks but it's something that you must have inside you."
- Best advice to aspiring athletes: "It doesn't cost anything to listen. There's no replacement for hard work. Don't depend on talent alone, depend on hard work to improve your talent. And finally, recognize that you are beneath God and be humble."
- In 2010, voted by his teammates as the Ed Block Courage Award recipient for the adversity he overcame as a youngster. Avant believes his climb from a troubled childhood to established NFL player can positively influence youths who are going through what he did at their age. "Definitely," he said. "I think that the biggest thing is to let them know they have a way out through Jesus Christ and through hard work and dedication and through belief. I definitely know that me telling the story to kids who are coming from a neighborhood like I came from, wherever it is, we can all identify with hard times, no matter who you are. [I want to let people know] that you can overcome and I think kids can understand that"
- Is a high-scoring member of the Eagles offseason basketball team
- Earned a degree in sociology. Twice earned academic All-Big Ten honors and three-time UM Athletic Academic Achievement accolodes
- Full name: Jason Raye Avant

A former first round draft choice (27th overall) of Houston in 2004, Babin has spent time with the Texans (2004-06), Seahawks (2007-08), Chiefs (2008), Eagles (2009) and Titans (2010).

- Babin often takes to Twitter as a way to interact with the Eagles faithful. In fact, @JasonBabin93 held a contest each week during the season, finding creative ways to determine which fans are deserving of a free pair of tickets from the Pro Bowler #FindBabinsTickets
- An avid hunter for as long as he can remember, Jason owns and operates Babin Ranch, a cattle ranch that is situated on 435 heavily wooded acres in Center, Texas.
- Jason has been training for an opportunity to play in the NFL since his teenage years in Paw Paw, MI, where the police used to get complaints from people in his neighborhood about someone running down the street with a stolen tire. However, they soon found out that it was just Jason doing his nightly run, dragging a truck tire attached to his waist with a logging chain. "I did all that stuff. Still do."
- Has been very involved in the Paw Paw Rocket Football League over the course of his career. PPRF is a non-profit football organization located in Paw Paw, MI, that provides children with the opportunity to become involved in community football. Despite the fact that Jason resides in Texas during the offseason, he and his father continue to help raise money for the organization and are still involved in many projects
- When Babin was younger, he had aspirations of following in the footsteps of his uncle and one day becoming a Navy Seal. In fact, he had taken many steps to do exactly that, before learning that his asthma would prevent him from being able to apply. He says he can still hold his breath underwater for roughly two minutes

That's the motto of the website originally created by a fan and now operated by Babin, where fans can send in pictures of themselves doing his famous sack pose and have them posted on the site www.babining.com. Babin also has a fan site at www.babinfanclub.com, where he sells original merchandise and holds various contests for Eagles fans. Log on for more information.

ON THE HUNT

Much like Trent Cole, Jason Babin is an avid hunter both off and on the field. The two Pro Bowlers ferociously attacked quarterbacks at an alarming rate in 2011, and ranked among the league's top pass-rushers. In fact, Babin enjoyed one of the finest seasons in franchise and NFL history when it comes to bagging opposing signalcallers, ranking third in team history with 18.0 sacks.

DEMETRESS BELL 77

TACKLE

6-5, 311	Born 5/03/84 in Summerfield, LA
Northwestern State	Summerfield HS, Summerfield, LA
5th year	Acquired - FA-Buf-2012

An athletic left tackle, Demetress Bell (formerly spelled Demetrius) signed a five-year deal with the Eagles on 4/4/12. Bell started 30 games over three seasons at left tackle for Buffalo, including every game of the 2010 campaign, after being selected in the seventh round by the Bills in the 2008 draft. A two-year starter at Northwestern State, Bell was named an AP All-American as well as a first team All-Southland Conference and first team All-Louisiana performer in 2007 his senior season after not playing organized football at any level until 2005.

BIRDSEED

- Credits his grandmother as the biggest influence on his life and career. "She was always working hard to help my mother provide for me, and she helped keep me out of trouble while growing up. She's also the one who encouraged me to become a hunter and fisherman."

HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

Demetress reached the NFL from a very unlikely set of circumstances. He was raised along with three other children by a single mother, Gloria, in Summerfield, a small town in rural northern Louisiana. The five of them shared a two bedroom trailer, and Gloria would work the overnight shift while also getting the kids ready for school in the morning and making the family dinner at night before work. When he turned 16 years old, Demetress began working on a shrimp boat in order to help make ends meet. He often went out on the Gulf of Mexico for days at a time until the boat was full. "It was a tough experience, but I'm glad I came up the way I did," Demetress said. "It made me the way I am today - it kept me humble and down to earth."

- Heavily involved in the community, Bell enjoys helping underprivileged children and single mothers. He holds an annual football camp every year and invites kids from all different types of backgrounds. Last year during the holidays, he assisted needy families by purchasing 30 playstations for presents. Bell participated in several community events while with Buffalo, including Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Erie County holiday shopping events and the "Kids In The Kitchen" events which he spoke about the importance of being healthy and exercising As a long term goal, he would like to start a foundation that helps those in need on a regular basis
- Favorite aspect of the game: "It's the ultimate man's game. You're able to go mano y mano against both one competitor and an entire team to see who can survive the longest without surrendering in one of brightest spotlights in the sports world."
- Favorite thing about Philadelphia: "The great people that I'm surrounded by every day here, whether it's my teammates, coaches, staff, or strength coaches. Everybody has welcomed me into the Eagles family with open arms."

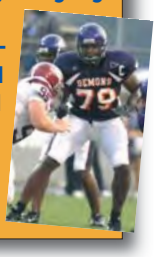
PERSONAL

- Graduated from Northwestern State with a kinesology degree in 2008
- Son of Gloria Bell, Demetress has an older brother, Chauncey, and two younger sisters, Chastity and Monisha
- Enjoys interacting with friends and fans on his Twitter, @DBell77. His favorite person to follow is his sister, Monisha
- Favorite personal moment in sports: "When I received my basketball scholarship from Northwestern State."

FROM LOW POST TO LEFT TACKLE

Demetress shined as a member of the Summerfield High School basketball team, where he was recognized with all-state honors and All-America honorable mention accolades his senior year. As a result, he received a scholarship offer to play on the hardwood at Northwestern State. Although Bell had never played football and his high school did not even field a team, the football coaches began to insist he try out once he arrived on campus. As soon as he redshirted, the football coach came back again and asked him just to come out and watch practice to see if Bell thought he could play. "That's what I did for my first year, to just come out to sidelines and look. I was always around working out and getting bigger."



After he joined the team in 2006, he got his first opportunity soon after. "The last game of the season, I was learning defensive end, and someone got hurt and I was the next guy up. I played and that was my first game ever, I had 11 tackles and a sack that first game. The next year, the left tackle got hurt and everyone voted for me, and that's how I became a left tackle."

BIRDSEED

"BAM" BOYKIN

Brandon's nickname "Bam" has stuck with him ever since high school when Cindy Morely, a local sportswriter for the Fayette Daily News, wrote an article about one of Brandon's great games and used the word "Bam!" repeatedly when describing his explosive plays.

- Has a prayer book that he reads from before every game. Said Boykin: "My mom bought it for me when I was in 8th grade. A lot of the pages are torn, but it's still holding up. There's a prayer that's applicable to pretty much any situation. I usually think about everything that went on that particular week to pick out the right prayer and go from there."

BRYCE BROWN 34

RUNNING BACK

6-0, 220	Born 5/14/91 in Wichita, KS
Kansas State	Wichita East HS, Wichita, KS
Rookie	Acquired - D7-2012 (229th overall)

Regarded as the number one recruit in the country in 2008, this former high school All-America selection took an unconventional route to the NFL. Brown played only 13 games on the collegiate level with Tennessee and Kansas State, rushing 104 times for 476 yards and 3 TDs. He left Tennessee following his freshman year in 2009 when head coach Lane Kiffin took a job at USC. He transferred to Kansas State and sat out the 2010 season, but suffered an ankle injury early in 2011 and played in just one game before leaving the program. After participating in the Wildcats Pro Day in 2012, he ended up being drafted by the Eagles in the 7th round and is poised to put his college career behind him.

THE BUTLER DID IT

Brown quickly points to his trainer and life coach, Brian Butler, for the reason he became so successful in high school football. "I started training Bryce in the 8th grade and his goal was to become the number one player in the nation in football," recalled Butler. "Understand, he could have been the best player in football, track, basketball or baseball. He was that talented. He sacrificed a lot of accolades in those other sports. Believe it or not, he wasn't even a starter on his 8th grade football team."

BIRDSEED

- A self-proclaimed animal lover, Brown owns a pitbull terrier that was shipped from Canada. "It's difficult to find a pure, pure breed here, so I did research for about eight months before getting Eilis. I have a passion for all animals, especially dogs. I'm a hands-on trainer. She climbs trees and is very athletic."
- His brother, Arthur, is a star linebacker at Kansas State and the Browns were the first brothers to be each ranked as five-star recruits in high school, according to Rivals.com
- Although he left the Kansas St. program during the 2011 season, he still participated in their Pro Day in 2012 after being granted permission by head coach Bill Snyder. Said Brown, "Coach Snyder cares about all of us as people first. He wants to help every one of us, everyone that is part of his program. I've learned a lot from him and I'm grateful for what he has done for me."
- Remains dedicated to giving back to the youth in his community. In fact, his trainer and mentor, Brian Butler, recounted Brown's draft day weekend. "I sponsor a 5th and 6th grade girls basketball team and Bryce was at every practice and game during their season. And even though he was drafted, he was still there for our practice like clockwork on Sunday at 4:30 pm. He even went to the car wash supporting the team the day before. He's serious and he's very loyal to our organization."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- In his only game action for Kansas State, rushed for 16 yards in the 2011 opener vs. Eastern Kentucky
- Sat out the 2010 campaign after transferring from Tennessee
- Rushed for 460 yards on 101 carries as a freshman at Tennessee in 2009. Also hauled in 10 passes for 137 yards and one score

TIGHT END

6-4, 255	Born 1/25/85 in Cincinnati, OH
Cincinnati	LaSalle HS, Cincinnati, OH
6th year	Acquired - D5b-07 (162nd overall)

A big, reliable target over the middle and one of the leaders on the Eagles offense, Brent Celek is armed with a unique toughness and relentless work ethic. Originally a fifth round draft choice of the club in 2007, Celek has since molded himself into one of the best all-around tight ends in the NFL and earned a six-year contract extension in 2009 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2016.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Produced one of the most prolific seasons by an Eagles tight end in 2009, setting career highs in receptions (76), yards (971) and TDs (8). These numbers were the second-highest, single-season totals in team history in all three categories among tight ends. In addition, his yards and touchdown totals ranked fourth among all NFL tight ends.
- Celek (24 years old), Jeremy Maclin (21) and DeSean Jackson (23) became the first trio of teammates age 24-years-old-or-younger in NFL history to each post 50+ catches, 750+ yards and 4+ touchdowns in a season in 2009. Additionally, he and Jackson became the first duo in team history to compile 900+ receiving yards in the same season
- Set a franchise playoff record with 10 catches, (83 yards and two TDs) in the NFC Championship game on 1/18/09 at Arz. His two TD receptions tied a team postseason record (Chad Lewis, Fred Barnett, Harold Carmichael)

QUOTES

- NFL Analyst Brian Baldinger on Celek: "I think he's the best all-around tight end in the NFL right now. When you combine his blocking, pass protection and pass-catching ability, he's the whole package. He gets tons of yards after the catch, he's tough and he does it all. Rob Gronkowski and Jimmy Graham may have the numbers, but they can't block like Celek. I challenge you to try and name a tight end that blocks better than him. There isn't one."

BRENT AND "THE BUS"

Known for routinely taking on multiple defenders to gain an extra yard, Celek says he tries to model that particular part of his game after one of the all-time great running backs. "I grew up watching Jerome Bettis and loved the way he played. He was a beast, the first guy never took him down. When I have the ball in my hands, I try to be like him. That's my mindset."

BIRDSEED

- Celek, who was not invited to the NFL scouting combine as a senior in 2007 and was then drafted in the fifth round, admits that those snubs have been a huge motivating force for him. Said Celek: "It ticked me off, to be honest. I thought I would be drafted higher, but it just lit a fire under me that I will always carry.
- Had dinner with Jim Cramer, host of "Mad Money" on CNBC and long-time Eagles fan, during the 2009 offseason. The two met to discuss finance and football. It was fun, he invited me back up there to sit in and watch the show."

FOR CELEK, THE ONLY WORK IS HARD WORK

Known for his relentless work ethic, Brent Celek has the distinct reputation of being the first one in to the NovaCare Complex every day, and the last one to leave.

Mark Staten, who was Celek's tight ends coach at Cincinnati and is currently coaching at Michigan State, claims that his former player has always been that way. Said Staten: "He is one of the hardest working, if not the hardest working player that I have enjoyed coaching. From the time I met him as a freshman when he got to Cincinnati, he wanted to be the best tight end. He wanted to play in the NFL and he wanted to be the best tight end in the NFL. As a young 19-year-old, that was his goal."

When asked if there was a specific moment when he knew Celek would turn into something special, Staten recalls a funny story. "When he took all my NFL tight end tape and I couldn't find it any more. I let him borrow it, he studied it on his own and I never got it back. We had some film with Shannon Sharpe doing some things. I remember he really dove into that. That's the thing about Brent - he's just a guy that wants to be the best. His work ethic, his intelligence, the way he goes about the game of football. He wants the information."

BIRDSEED

- Trent enjoys spending time on his farm in Ohio and says it's his favorite place to vacation every year. "I have it all there. I can relax, farm and fish. I can't think of any other place I'd rather be in my free time."
- Is the cousin of Miami Heat point guard Norris Cole
- Loves being in Philadelphia because of the fans and the fact that there are so many things to do: "The fans are who I play for. They make it fun for me. I love when the city gets hyped up for a big game all week long. I look forward to those games. As for Philly, there's always something to do, seven days a week. People like to have a good time. You can be at a mall in minutes or at the beach in an hour."
- Follow Trent on Twitter: @Pro_Hunt58

QUOTES

- Head coach Andy Reid: "Trent plays the game with a level of tenacity that's hard to replicate. He's one of the premier defensive ends in the league. We have always said that when you watch the tape of him, it's hard to tell the difference between his first play and his last play. He has an unbelievable motor that does not stop. And as good as he is rushing the passer, he is equally as good against the run. His energy is contagious on the field."
- Defensive coordinator Juan Castillo on Trent's work ethic: "Trent, I mean, he's unbelievable. You can go into our meeting room and we have Trent up on the wall. He was a fifth round draft pick; he's one of our leaders. He's a guy that I talk about in the meetings. What we're trying to do is, we have a philosophy, we have a plan that if you work hard, and outwork your opponents, that you're going to be successful, that you work on your fundamentals every day. Really, that's what Trent has done. He's a model of what we want our guys to do here, to work and train, and do the right things."
- Cole on why he plays with such a high motor: "That's the only way I know how to play, I can't see doing it any other way. If I know I can get to the quarterback, I'm going to try and find a way to do it. I don't care what it takes, I'm going to get there."

- Registered a sack of Cowboys QB Stephen McGee, and recorded 7 tackles, including 1 tackle for a loss at Dal. (12/24)

SICKENING EXPERIENCE

After a successful college career at Cincinnati, Cole expected to be drafted some time in the first three rounds of the 2005 NFL draft. But he caught pneumonia twice as he was training after his senior season and saw his draft stock plummet. "I remember catching it, trying to recover from it, and then I got put in the hospital," said Cole. "The doctor told me that I was going to get it again in a week or so, and I got it again. It really hurt me, and I went from 260 pounds to 230. I couldn't perform at the combine. I remember going into the meetings and answering a couple of questions before the coaches would excuse me to go back to the room because I was so sick. I couldn't even look at them, it was bad."

BIRDSEED

- "I really believe in paying it forward," said Coleman, who has donated a lot of time and resources to several charities during his career. In fact, he was president of the Ohio State chapter of Uplifting Athletes, an organization geared toward fundraising efforts for rare diseases. His father's bout with breast cancer really piqued his interest in that organization. "During my freshman year of college, my father held off chemotherapy treatments just so he could attend our National Championship game against Florida. He never missed a day of school or practice while teaching physical education and coaching basketball. He's an inspirational guy and has been through a lot. I really look up to him"
- Ron Coleman on foregoing breast cancer treatments to attend Kurt's bowl game: "I really needed to be around Kurt and the rest of my family during that time. I would honestly say it helped me more than it helped or inspired them. [Being at that game] was paramount in my recovery. I had made up my mind right away that I was going to be at that game, no matter what."

THREE-STEP DROP

Hobbies: Movies, music
Favorite movie: Man on Fire
TV show: Curb Your Enthusiasm
Musical artist: Michael Jackson, anything R&B and rap
Quote: "Have a bad day tomorrow."
First jobs: Watching kids at an elementary school, making $10 an hour
Bucket list: "See a couple wonders of the world, like the Pyramids in Egypt and the Great Wall of China."
Talent he'd most like to have: Singing
Favorite teams/athletes growing up: Chicago Bulls, Michael Jordan, Atlanta Braves, Brian Dawkins, Ed Reed
Favorite football moment: "Beating Michigan four times and walking off the field as Rose Bowl champs."

GAME CHANGERS

Coleman overcame quite a bit of adversity on and off the field. In fact, he almost quit football for good following an April, 2006 practice in which he tackled Tyson Gentry, a scout team receiver. Gentry was paralyzed and Coleman was devastated. "I don't think I would have played again, but Tyson and his family were so supportive. They told me it wasn't my fault, that it was an accident and part of the game. That meant so much." The two remain close to this day. Later that fall, Coleman's father, Ron, was diagnosed with breast cancer. The elder Coleman, however, is cancer-free after surgery and extensive chemotherapy. "It was a rough year," recalled Coleman. "But I developed a skin that year that allowed me to deal with any situation, and I think it made me a stronger person."

PLAYING IT FORWARD

"When someone asks me what I value most in life, I say faith, family, friends, education, and football - in that order. These are the aspects of my life that are helping to shape me into the man that I strive to be today."
This is the inspiration behind Coleman's documentary, "Playing it Forward" which chronicles his journey as a man and a football player. To view the powerful videos and to learn more about his story, visit www.kurt-coleman.com

EXTRA SPECIAL HAT TRICK

Coleman regained his starting role prior to a week 6 match-up with Washington in 2011 and responded with a career-day as he tallied 3 INTs of Rex Grossman along with 6 tackles. "It was tough for him [to be demoted]," said Juan Castillo. "But the thing he understands is that it is special to be a starter in the NFL and he is enjoying it and taking advantage of the opportunity again." It was the 11th such occassion that an Eagle had 3+ INTs in a game and the first since 1966. Said Kurt, "It was a humbling experience [to be demoted] and God taught me a lesson. LONG SNAPPER

6-0, 250	Born 7/21/80 in Garden Grove, CA
UTEP	Pacifica HS, Garden Grove, CA
10th year	Acquired - FA 2006

After battling a tremendous amount of personal adversity early in life, Jon Dorenbos (pronounced DORN-boss) has worked hard and stayed focused enough to carve out a successful career as an NFL long snapper and was named to his first Pro Bowl following the 2009 season. Originally signed by Philadelphia in the latter half of the 2006 season, Dorenbos has played in every game for the Eagles since then (including postseason) and inked a five-year contract extension on 12/29/07, which will keep him in Philadelphia through 2012. Dorenbos, who endured the murder of his mother by his father at a young age, took up magic to help ease his mind throughout the tough times. Dorenbos, in fact, has become so good at his craft that he has been hired for shows in Hollywood and Las Vegas

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Ranked third on the team with 123 special teams production points

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Earned his first Pro Bowl selection following the 2009 season. "On an individual level, it was the coolest thing that ever happened to me," said Dorenbos. "Being in a position that's kind of a monotone, monotonous job, not really in the spotlight - I'm cool with that. It's like being an offensive lineman. We do it because we love it. To get that level of respect [from the coaches who voted] is really what it's all about."

BIRDSEED

- An accomplished professional magician, has performed at venues in Las Vegas and Hollywood. His love for magic was born while he spent 1992 in foster care after personal tragedy struck his family. He met an older teenager who could do tricks and he fell in love with magic. "It was a time for me to be by myself, a way for me to pass time. I was at peace and I enjoyed it. I loved the coordination, and being obsessed with the fundamentals of what I was doing. I loved getting involved in the psychology of magic and people and entertaining people. I've never been one to want people to think I have powers or I can fly or anything like that; I like getting a group of people together and having fun."
- Has performed magic in front of many famous musicians and athletes. The long list includes stars like Magic Johnson, Joe Montana, Dan Marino, Jim Kelly, Garth Brooks, Lindsay Lohan, Rascal Flatts and Dierks Bentley. Dorenbos collects the autographs of every famous person he has performed for on playing cards, which he hangs up in the game room of his home in Huntington Beach, CA. "It's like a museum in there with all the memorabilia. Having the opportunity to meet the people I've met through something I love doing, it's just an indescribable feeling."

"TEAMING UP" WITH GARTH BROOKS

Remains active with the "Garth Brooks Teammates for Kids Foundation." The nonprofit corporation, which was co-founded by Garth Brooks in 1999, develops and implements innovative concepts that generate funds for the benefit of children's charities. "It's the first foundation that I have been involved with where 100 percent of the money goes to the children," says Dorenbos. "If you donate money, [the foundation] matches it and if you have charities that you work with, they redispurse the money." For more information, please visit www.teammatesforkids.com

KING DUNLAP 65

TACKLE

6-9, 330	Born 9/14/85 in Nashville, TN
Auburn	Brentwood Academy, Brentwood, TN
5th year	Acquired - D7-08 (230th overall)

Having spent his first four seasons as a versatile reserve lineman, King Dunlap will open the 2012 season as the team's starting left tackle after a strong training camp and preseason. Having experience at both tackle and guard, he joins Jonathan Ogden and Ben Jefferson as one of the tallest players ever to play guard in the NFL, according to Stats Inc. A four-year letterman at Auburn, Dunlap appeared in 48 career games (20 starts) during his collegiate career.

IN THE TRENCHES

- Position other than O-line you'd most like to play: "Middle linebacker, because I played there in little league. I loved the freedom of running sideline to sideline. But that was back when I could run all day long!"
- Favorite O-lineman of all-time: "Bob Brown. I recently saw some film of him ... He was a beast. He was the first big, athletic offensive tackle in the NFL. He set the standard."
- How you decided to become an O-lineman: "I really didn't have a choice. I was too tall for defense and too heavy to be a tight end."
- The best part of being an O-lineman: "Getting to knock somebody around every play, all game long. I love the physicality of it."
- Most challenging aspect of your job: "The preparation. There's a lot of work involved that most people don't see, especially all of the drills working on fundamentals."
- Most underrated attribute of being an O-lineman: "I would say athleticism, since everybody thinks we're all fat and slow."
- Most memorable block: "I had a down block as senior in high school and I took out the defensive end, the nose guard and a linebacker and the back, Theo Townsend, ran about 45 yards for a touchdown."
- Best player you've ever lined up against: "Dwight Freeney. I saw him for two plays in a preseason game in 2009. His spin move is definitely vicious . You know it's coming, but you still can't stop it."
- Your advice to aspiring O-lineman: "Stay active and work hard."
- Worst part of being 6-9, 330 pounds: "Not being able to ride roller coasters at Six Flags anymore. And I love roller coasters. And the worst part is that I'll wait in line forever but the shoulder harness is never able to click down and lock because of my height."

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his first career start at left guard vs. Ari (11/13) for an injured Evan Mathis. In doing so, he joined Jonathan Ogden (Ravens, 1996) and Ben Jefferson (Browns, 1990) as the tallest players ever to play guard in the NFL, according to Stats Inc.
- Started at left tackle at Buf. (10/9) for an injured Jason Peters

He was always on my [butt] about getting better everyday and minimizing mistakes. He was hard on us, but he wanted us to be the best we can be."

BRANDON GRAHAM 54

DEFENSIVE END

6-2, 265	Born 4/3/88 in Detroit, MI
Michigan	Crocket Vocation Technical HS, Detroit, MI
3rd year	Acquired - D1-10 (13th overall)

The Eagles first round draft choice in 2010 out of Michigan, Brandon Graham battled back from a gruesome knee injury late in his rookie campaign to return to the field in a limited role in the latter half of the 2011 season. The speedy defensive end has since regained his full strength in his knee over the past year and is poised to contribute to the Eagles D-line rotation in 2012.

BIRDSEED

- In the 2012 offseason, Graham teamed up with a boxing trainer in Michigan. "I'm more cut up and in better shape and all that, but he really helped me most with my breathing. I wasn't in the best shape of my life last year due to my knee injury. My breathing was out of control. Now when I feel tired, I get back to proper breathing techniques and it has helped a lot."
- Names his mother, Tasha Graham, for being the most influential person in his life. A cancer survivor, she was diagnosed with luekemia at a young age. She spent most of her life working at a Chrysler auto plant to support Brandon and his three sisters. Recalled Tasha, "The doctors told me I would never be able to have kids, so I cherish them because of that. When I was working at Chrysler, working hard, trying to make ends meet, it was for them and Brandon saw that."
- Rod Oden, an assistant coach at Crocket while Graham was in high school is now the head coach there and fondly remembers Graham's work ethic and impact he has made on the program. "He was an absolute leader. The entire school would follow Brandon. He's a leader in demonstration. We say, 'Leadership is demonstrated, it's not announced.' And he walks in a room and his presence commands respect. People see him put in the extra hours. They see him run the extra sprints, lift the extra weights, and they follow. Now we have kids who want to be the next Brandon. They're still following."

PERSONAL

- Single and resides in Philadelphia. Has a cocker spaniel, Midnight
- Parents are Tasha Graham and Derrick Walton. Has three younger sisters, Brittany, Mikayla and Brianna
- Began playing football at the age of seven as a linebacker, center, and running back for the Detroit Giants
- Says his greatest love besides football is doing flips in gymnastics. "I started doing it when I was young and I just got better and better. It's really fun. I can do about ten in a row now."
- Favorite moment in sports growing up: "In my junior year in high school, I intercepted a pass in the state semifinals, took it to the house and we won the game. That was a great feeling."
- Most underrated attribute of a defensive linemen: "The ability to react. There are plenty of fast people that can't react."
- Was a four-year starter at Crockett Vocation Technical HS in Detroit and earned Parade, EA Sports and USA Today first-team All-America honors as a senior. That year, was also selected Michigan Gatorade Player of the Year
- Recorded 307 tackles, including 112 for loss and 56 sacks during his high school career. Also collected 16 fumble recoveries, forced six more and grabbed two interceptions. Also averaged more than 40 yards per attempt as a punter
- Lettered in basketball while also throwing the shot put in track, logging a career-best toss of 50'0". Also ran a 10.9 in the 100 meters along with a 23.5 in the 200

CLAY HARBOR 82

TIGHT END

6-3, 252	Born 7/2/87 in Libertyville, IL
Missouri State	Dwight HS, Dwight, IL
3rd year	Acquired - D4b-10 (125th overall)

An athletic and multi-faceted tight end, Clay Harbor was a fourth round draft choice of the Eagles in 2010. After receiving only one scholarship offer coming out of high school, Harbor became a Division I-AA standout at Missouri State and was a three-time All America selection, setting a school record with 150 career catches for 1,906 yards and 10 TDs. Harbor was a three-sport standout at Dwight High School, playing basketball and running track in addition to football.

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Posted three receptions for a career-high 55 yards and one touchdown on a 16-yard pass from QB Michael Vick in the first quarter vs. SF (10/2)
- Caught a third down pass for 17 yards to extend a drive that eventually led to a LeSean McCoy 11-yard touchdown run vs. NYG (9/25)

BIRDSEED

- One of five Missouri State players to be drafted since 1986. He is one of two Bears all-time to be selected higher than the fifth round, the other being Dallas OL David Arkin, a fourth round pick in 2011
- Enjoyed his collegiate tenure at Missouri State. "I really enjoyed playing with my brother, but I also liked going up against the other teams in the conference that wouldn't look at me coming out of high school." Due to budgetary constraints, the team could not fly to a road game and stay in a hotel during the same trip. They would either bus and stay in a hotel or fly in and out on the same day
- Started playing football in fourth grade, and stuck with it despite being a "below average" player. Once in high school, he knew he was getting better because he started beating older players at camps. "I went to a camp at the University of Illinois one summer and had a better camp than some of the best prospects going to top colleges." He enjoyed a breakout sophomore campaign in college and realized he had a chance to play in the NFL
- Credits his two tight ends coaches - Sean Coughlin and Bob Montgomery - at Missouri State for his development into an NFL player. "After converting from wide receiver, I struggled with the small details of being a tight end and Coach Coughlin really worked with and believed in me. He was the first person to tell me he thought I had the skills to make it to the NFL. Coach Montgomery helped me become a better blocker. He was a big-time center at Iowa State and his expertise was in that part of the game. He helped me become a complete player."
- Most underrated attributes at TE position: "Being smart and the ability to think quickly. We're one of the few position groups where several different things are asked of us, whether it's run blocking, pass blocking, running a route or making a catch. It's one of the toughest positions to play for that reason."
- Favorite part of playing football: "The competitiveness of the sport. I feel that whoever works the hardest on and off the field is usually the one who succeeds."

BROTHERLY LOVE

Separated by just one year in age, Clay and Cory Harbor grew up in their hometown of Dwight, IL, competing against each other in every aspect of life, whether it was on the playing field or in the classroom. Said Clay, "We were so competitive against one another and it helped bring the best out of me." But Cory is credited with another important aspect of Clay's life - a college scholarship. Despite a prolific high school career and productive offseason camps, Clay was without an offer to play at the next level until Cory, a standout LB/DE, kept bugging his coaches to give his little brother a shot. Despite being so competitive, Clay also credits his brother for getting him where he is today. "He was the one who kept me in line and focused. He's the one person who I would call should I ever need anything."

Alex Henery (pronounced HEN-ry) set a team record and rookie NFL benchmark with a 88.9% field goal percentage in his first season with the Eagles after being selected in the fourth round of the 2011 draft. A first-team All-America selection in 2010, Henery handled the kicking and punting duties at the University of Nebraska, and finished his career as the most accurate kicker in NCAA history. Henery played soccer all of his life and was encouraged by his high school soccer coach to start placekicking for the football team.

BIRDSEED

- Thrives on the pressure of going out and performing in front of a big crowd, which drew him to football
- Finds the mental aspect of kicking to be the most underrated attribute. "It's more challenging than it looks because of the dramatic highs and lows, so it is important to be even keeled."

- Serves as an instructor at the Midwest Kicking Camp, run by San Diego kicker Nate Kaeding. Other instructors include Hall of Famer Jan Stenerud, Mac Percival, and Mike Eischeid. He attended the camp when he was younger and said he benefitted from it greatly. More information about the camp can be found at www.midwestkicking.com
- Compares Philadelphia's fanbase to the following of Nebraska football: "They're a lot like Husker fans. They're passionate, know a lot about the game, and love everything relating to the team."

TODD HERREMANS 79

GUARD/TACKLE

6-6, 321	Born 10/13/82 in Grand Rapids, MI
Saginaw Valley State	Ravenna HS, Ravenna, MI
8th year	Acquired - D4b-05 (126th overall)

A versatile and dependable force on the offensive line, Todd Herremans (pronounced HARE-uh-mens) signed a three-year contract extension on 3/13/12 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2016. A fourth-round draft choice of the Eagles, Herremans successfully adjusted to right tackle in 2011 after five seasons of solid play at the left guard position.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- A key contributer to an offensive line that helped engineer the highest scoring offense in team history in 2010 (439 points) and a team record 6,386 total net yards in 2011
- A two-time member of USA Today's All-Joe team (2008, 2011), which honors the NFL players whose work doesn't necessarily garner headlines, but is integral to the success of their football team
- Scored the first TD of his career on a one-yard pass from QB Donovan McNabb, while playing as an eligible receiver on a goal-line play at Sea. (11/2/08). Became just the 2nd offensive lineman in team history to catch a TD pass and the first since Bob Gonya did so on 10/7/34 vs. Pit.
- Caught his second career TD on a two-yard pass from QB Michael Vick, while playing as an eligible receiver on a goal-line play at Dal. (12/12/10). His two career TD receptions are the most ever for an Eagles offensive lineman

- His definition of an O-lineman: "The ultimate team player. They never touch the ball or score points or get highlights on SportsCenter. But no one else is going to get that done unless we do our job."
- Favorite O-lineman: Russ Grimm. "I like his style, he was nasty. He wasn't super gifted, but he was relentless on the field. I really enjoy watching his highlight tapes."

QUOTES

- Head coach Andy Reid on Herreman's extension: "Todd's intelligence, toughness, durability, and leadership are second to none. Very few players in the NFL can play at an extremely high level at both the guard and tackle positions and Todd has done that for us. He has been a big part of the success of our offense over the last several years."
- Herremans on being in Philadelphia long-term: "I would love to finish my career in Philadelphia. The city has been awesome to me, and I don't get a lot of negativity from anybody really. It's just fun to be here and I really want to be on the team that brings a Super Bowl to Philadelphia."

BIRDSEED

- Took up chess as a hobby in college and became addicted. Has been involved in Eagles Youth Partnership's annual chess tournament for the past three years. "When I was in college, one of my buddy's parents brought us a chess set and three or four of us ended up sitting around playing chess all the time. I got into the strategy of the game and liked how you always had to think three or four steps ahead all the time. Then I got to see how good the kids were with the EYP event, and was amazed."
- Aspires to become an actor one day and enjoys going to live theatre. Was a member of the drama club in high school and played the lead role in the play Tom Jones during his junior year
- Has a strong interest in drawing and other forms of art. Has worked over the years with various different mediums including chalk, graphite, and water colors
- Growing up in the small town of Ravenna (pronounced ruh-VENN-uh), located in the western part of Michigan, didn't aid in getting Todd recruited to play football at a Division I-A school. In a town that had one blinking street light, one gas station and one privately owned grocery store, the football program was very small. In fact, his senior year team consisted of just 19 players. Although he played tight end, offensive tackle, and defensive tackle, his talented but underexposed career went unnoticed by the big schools. That's why he decided on Saginaw Valley State, a small teaching school at the Division II level, which offered him a scholarship that covered half of his tuition

TODDFATHER GIVES BACK

Herremans believes that one of the most important facets of being an NFL player is to give back to the community you came from, and he has proven this throughout his career. He started the Herremans Scholar Athlete Scholarship, given to three-sport athletes who maintain a 3.0 GPA. He has also continuously pledged money and equipment to both the Saginaw Valley State Football program (most of his donations were used to build a new weight room facility) and the Ravenna High School athletics program. In addition to local community work, he continues to fund and be an advocate of cancer, Alzheimer's, and Autism research as well as anti-bullying.

BRANDON HUGHES 27

CORNERBACK

5-11, 185	Born 5/23/86 in Bloomington, IL
Oregon State	Bloomington HS, Bloomington, IL
4th year	Acquired - FA-NYG-2010

Brandon Hughes has been a key contributor on special teams and a solid reserve cornerback since joining the Eagles on 11/23/10. Originally a fifth-round selection of the Chargers in 2009, Hughes spent his rookie campaign on the Injured Reserve list with a knee injury before landing on the New York Giants practice squad for the first ten games of the 2010 season.

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his first career NFL start vs. NE (11/27)

BIRDSEED

- Says his greatest love besides football is writing. Hughes, who was a staff member on Oregon State's student newspaper, The Daily Barometer, is intrigued by the journalistic aspect of writing - most specifically the media side. "If I wasn't playing football, I'd probably be studying the communication field in a much broader sense," says Hughes.
- Would like to be a skilled pianist one day. Hughes actually took a class for one term in college, but it did not cater to his football schedule. "I had some free time for the class, but it was not enough to meet my teacher's expectations. I'm still working on it, though."

A BROTHER'S WORTH

Considers his older brother, Keybrooks, as one of the biggest influences on his life and career. "He was a father figure to my siblings and me," remembers Hughes. "Even though he was my brother, I used to call him 'pops.' As a teenager, he had to sometimes make adult decisions just to provide for the family. I admire him and he helped put me on the right track."

PERSONAL

- A three-year letterman and two-year starter at Bloomington (IL) HS, finished his career with 34 receptions for 1,008 receiving yards and 16 touchdowns. Also played defensive back
- Earned first-team All-Big 12 Conference honors as a senior and was a member of a team that went 13-1 and was the state's 6A state runner-up. Says his favorite moment in his sports career is the back-to-back runs his high school team made to the state finals
- Also competed in track & field, where he was a two-time Intercity Meet champion and a school record-holder in the 400-meter event
- What he loves most about the game of football: "I love the team aspect. You can always find yourself being around a different group of characters. In my eyes, that's what makes football so fun."
- Claims that having confidence is one of the most underrated attributes needed in the sport of football. "I like to think that football is 80 percent confidence and 20 percent skill," says Hughes. "A guy may not be the most athletic or the biggest, but if he carries himself with confidence, he can't be stopped."
- Pregame ritual includes listening to Gospel music 15-20 minutes prior to taking the field
- Used to be a bus boy at a local restaurant growing up. "I feel like everybody should work in a restaurant at some point in their life. From picking up after people, to cleaning dishes, you can obtain some unique qualities."
- Son of Robert Hughes and Ceneta Brooks and has four brothers and three sisters
- Owns a dog named Romeo. "He's a mix of a couple different breeds, but similar to a Jack Russell Terrier. He's got so much energy, he could definitely be on one of those shows where they do the obstacle courses."
- Grew up as a big fan of the Chicago Bears and enjoyed watching wide receiver Marty Booker. "First of all I used to play receiver so I would always watch those guys, but I just liked how he was old

THREE-STEP DROP

Person he'd most like to have dinner with: Jesus. "I would ask him about the things that he did or said that weren't documented in the Bible."

THE LONG ROAD TO THE NFL

Phillip Hunt has been through a great deal in his journey to the NFL. After enduring a rough upbringing in Fort Worth, TX, Hunt said he very easily could have gone down the wrong path. "Where I grew up, it was either play sports or fall under negative influences. I played sports," says Hunt.

His mother, Noni Roberts, raised Phillip and his two siblings, his sister Shaunte and his brother Calvin. She worked as a beautician and styled customers' hair in her own home. "My mom is the biggest inspiration to me to make something out of my life. She sacrificed everything to make ends meet, was on her feet all day doing hair. I owe everything to her."

After being urged to play football at an early age by his grandmother, Lula, Phillip saw immediate success and was a star player at Dunbar High School. He then went on to play four seasons at Houston, finishing his career as the school's all-time leader in sacks with 34.

Despite his success in college, Hunt went undrafted in 2009 and didn't make an NFL roster after being released as a rookie free agent with the Cleveland Browns. From there, he chose to sign with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the CFL, where he flourished, leading the league with 16 sacks in 2010 before battling his way onto the Eagles roster in 2011. "The thing that's special about Phillip is he's just relentless and we saw that day one," said defensive coordinator Juan Castillo. "He plays with heart, he gives 110 percent all the time. That's probably what carried him this far."

ANTI-BULLYING CAMPAIGN

When Jackson learned of Nadin Khoury's nightmarish day at school in suburban Philadelphia in 2011, he wanted to help. When the 13-year-old Khoury made a brave appearance on "The View" to tell his story of being beaten by six older students to a national TV audience, Jackson made it a point to visit him that on set that day to uplift his spirits. Since then, Jackson regularly speaks with Nadin, took him to the ESPYs as a special guest, and has made it a point to speak to schools in Philadelphia and California in an effort to put bullying to an end.

DeSEAN JACKSON

PERSONAL

- Resides in Los Angeles and Philadelphia. Son of Gayle, a proud member of Delta Sigma Theta sorority, and the late Bill Jackson. Has four older brothers, who all played football in college
- Credits all of his four older brothers for making him the athlete he is today. They would have their little brother up on Sunday mornings the day after his high school games working on his skills. "When other kids were still in bed on Sundays, my brothers had me up working. They made me tough. They wouldn't let me be a punk." All four brothers played collegiate football: Byron (San Jose St.), Derrick (Idaho St.), Travis (Utah St.) and Jay (Santa Monica Junior College). Also has an older sister, Adreea
- An All-America selection as a senior at Long Beach Polytechnic HS, was the recipient of the 2004 Glenn Davis Award by the Los Angeles Times as Southern California's POY. Posted 60 receptions for 1,075 yards and 15 TDs (two for punt returns), and led his team to the CIF Southern Section championship. In the CIF title game, he was a last-minute replacement on defense and responded with two INTs, one of which he returned 68 yards for a TD. Earned All-State accolades as a junior
- Also starred in baseball and was ranked by Baseball America as the third-best all-around athlete in the MLB draft prospect pool in 2005 after hitting .380 with 20 stolen bases in his senior season. Also set the state 4x100 record in track
- Credits his parents for doing a great job of keeping him out of all the trouble that he could have gotten into living in the Crenshaw section of Los Angeles. "I had friends who've been shot, paralyzed and put in jail. It was unfortunate to see people I considered friends involved in things that could get them killed. If I wasn't involved in sports and didn't have my father to keep me out of those things, I could have ended up the same way."
- Jackson's brother, Byron, who spent two seasons in the NFL on the Chiefs practice squad (1992-93), began taping DeSean's football games at a very young age in order to help him hone his skills. Eventually he began taping other things involving DeSean that they hope to use some day in a documentary

ANDY REID ON DESEAN JACKSON

"DeSean is a game breaker, he has the speed and ability to score from anywhere on the field, and he has proven himself to be a big threat for our offense. Signing our own players was a big priority for us this offseason and DeSean was certainly high on our list. We are very excited about his future as an Eagle."

D-JACKED UP IN BIG D

After accruing just 79 total receiving yards in three losses to the Cowboys in 2009, Jackson exploded with a career-high 210 on Sunday Night Football at Dallas on 12/12/10. He opened the game with a 60-yard grab from Vick and then provided the go-ahead points in the 4th qtr. with a spectacular 91-yard TD. The yardage total ranks 3rd in team history behind Tommy McDonald (237 vs. NYG in 1961) and Kevin Curtis (221 vs. Det in 2007) and was only the 3rd instance in the NFL that a player eclipsed the 200-yd mark with 4-or-fewer catches, joining the Redskins' Gary Clark (4-203 vs. Atl. in 1991) and the Giants' Choo-Choo Roberts (4-201 vs. Chi. in 1949) ... the 91-yard TD was the longest of his career and tied for 5th longest in team history. It was the 2nd longest TD pass ever vs. the Cowboys ... The performance earned him NFC Offensive player of the week honors

LITTLE MAN, GIANT COMEBACK

Jackson notched the first game-winning punt return as time expired in NFL history, racing 65 yards in a stunning comeback win at NY Giants (12/19/10). It was his 4th career punt return for a score and capped a 28-point, 4th quarter rally for the Eagles.

- Racked up 153 receiving yards (5 catches) at Jax (9/26), including a 61-yard catch and run for a TD from Vick
- Grabbed a 45-yard TD pass from Vick at Det (9/19) as part of a 135-yard receiving day. Also caught a 53-yard bomb from Vick to set up another TD

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

- Led the NFL with a 15.2 punt return average, the fourth-highest single-season avg in team history. Also returned two punts for TDs, tying Brian Westbrook for the most by an Eagle in a season
- His 18.6 yards per catch average finished 2nd in the NFL among players with 30+ receptions
- Posted a career high in receiving yards (1,156), and became the 3rd player under Andy Reid to surpass the 1,000-yard mark (Terrell Owens in 2004; Kevin Curtis in 2007). His 1,156 yards placed him 12th in the NFL/4th in NFC
- His nine TDs and 1,156 receiving yards were the highest totals by an Eagle since Terrell Owens' 14 TDs and 1,200 yards in 2004
- Garnered five NFC honors in the regular season: NFC Special Teams POW at Car. (9/13) and at NYG (12/13), NFC Offensive POW at Was. (10/26) and NFC Special Teams POM in September and December
- Amassed five 100-yard games in 2009, most by an Eagle since Terrell Owens' seven in 2004
- Became the 5th player in team history to register back-to-back 140-yard receiving games (178 at NYG - 12/13 and 140 vs. SF - 12/20). The last to do so was Mike Quick in 1985 (146 yds on 11/3/85 at SF; 145 yds on 11/10/85 vs. Atl.). The others were Ben Hawkins (1967), Pete Retzlaff (1965) and Bud Grant (1952)

- Notched NFC Special Teams POM honors in Sept. with a 22.2 punt return average and an 85-yd punt return for a TD vs. Car. (9/13)
- Earned NFC Special Teams POW honors at NYG (12/13) when he had a 72-yd punt return for a TD, his second of the season and the third of his career to set a new team record. Also had a 60-yd TD reception and posted a career-high 178 yds
- Earned NFC Offensive POW honors at Was. (10/26) with a career-long 67-yd rushing TD on the game's opening drive. Also caught a 57-yard TD pass from Donovan McNabb, becoming the second player in team history to have a rushing and receiving touchdown of 50+ yards in the same game (Bosh Pritchard had a 75-yd. catch and 77-yd. rush vs. Wash on 10/23/49)
- After notching 101 yards vs. NO (9/20/09) and 149 yards vs. KC (9/27/09), he and Brent Celek became the first Eagles duo to each eclipse 100 receiving yards in consecutive games since Pete Pihos and Bobby Walston did so in 1953 (11/8, 11/15)

(9/13) when he broke an 85-yard punt return for a touchdown, the second of his career and the second-longest in team history (Vai Sikahema, 87 yards on 11/22/92 at NYG). JAIQUAWN JARRETT 26

SAFETY

6-0, 196	Born 9/21/89 in Brooklyn, NY
Temple	Fort Hamilton HS, Brooklyn, NY
2nd year	Acquired - D2-11 (54th overall)

The Eagles selected Jaiquawn Jarrett (pronounced JAY-kwahn) with the 54th overall pick in the 2011 NFL Draft. Known for his physical play, Jarrett started two games during his rookie campaign and contributed on special teams. A local product out of Temple University, he was a four-year starter and a two-time first-team All-MAC performer for the Owls.

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Registered a career-high 8 tackles vs. Was. (1/1/12) in his second start of the season
- Made his first-career NFL start, filling in for an injured Nate Allen vs. Ari. (11/13)

"THE CLINIC"

According to his former college coach, Al Golden, Jarrett is featured in his tape that teaches tackling fundamentals, and has developed the nickname "The Clinic" among many players who have seen the video.

"He's the best tackler that I've been around in my 21 years as a player and a coach," Golden said. "I've never seen anyone tackle like he does in the open field."

Andy Reid echoed Golden's assessment of Jarrett's tackling ability. "You're getting a very explosive hitter," Reid said. "When you talk about people who can come up and smack you, he'll come up and smack you."

BIRDSEED

- Is a big advocate for the special olympics and has volunteered to work in several of them. "Seeing how passionate everyone is in the events, how they love being there and doing what they're doing, it inspires me. I want to be involved with this for the rest of my life."

TOUGH LOVE

Jaiquawn's mother, Audrey, has served as a corrections officer at Rikers Island in New York for the past 22 years. A single mom, Audrey raised Jaiquawn along with his three siblings, David, Lincoln and Margaret.

Jaiquawn says his mother was loving and supportive of him his whole life, but also warned him about what she witnesses every day at work. "I told him the horror stories," says Audrey. "It's degrading and humiliating. I told him if he ever gets locked up, I'm not going to see him. I'm not going through that."

"I owe my mom everything. She instilled in me the importance of staying focused, working hard, and never giving up on your dream," says Jaiquawn. "I'm always nervous for her when she goes to work, but I know that she will come out strong."

- Earned his degree in criminal justice and says if he wasn't playing football he'd be working as a corrections officer or going to school to one day work for the FBI
- Claims the reason why he started playing football was because he was always being rough with his older brothers. "I was always trying to be tough with them. My oldest brother David actually got me into it. Then my stepfather, Jeff, he came into my life when I was 13 and I really credit him for teaching me all the ins and outs of the game."
- A collector of change, he deposits all his coins into an M&M piggy bank. "It tells me exactly how much change I have. Very convenient."
- Says his greatest love besides football is basketball

- Has aspirations of following in his father's footsteps and becoming an elementary school teacher after his playing days are over
- Enjoys fishing, especially in Florida. His best catch was either a 62-inch golden amberjack or a 9'1" hammerhead shark. In fact, once took an offseason fishing trip to Key West and estimates he caught 60 pounds of tuna, wahoo, snapper and mackerel
- His father, Darome Jenkins was an elementary school teacher after playing college football at Eastern Michigan. He was Cullen's little-league football coach growing up. "He has definitely been a major influence on my career as far as teaching me the game and motivating my brother and me to be the best we can be as players."
- Recently took up boxing as an alternative offseason training method. "It really helps you with hand-eye coordination and core/hip mobility. I can already see it has allowed me to become a better overall athlete."
- Says that quickness, balance and intelligence are underrated skills needed to excel as a defensive lineman. "Everyone always told me I was too small to play defensive tackle and not fast enough to play defensive end, but I think the reason that I've been able to have success at both positions is becuase of having good balance, good short-area quickness, and really working to understand the game and what my opponents are trying to do."

PAYING HIS DUES

Now one of the league's most consistent and versatile pass-rushing defensive tackles, Jenkins endured a challenging road to NFL stardom. A collegiate standout at Central Michigan, Jenkins slipped under the NFL's radar during the draft was finally picked up as a rookie free agent by the Green Bay Packers in 2003. He was released as part of the team's final roster cut down, and ended up taking a job in landscaping in his hometown in Michigan. He wondered if he would ever play football again. Jenkins then committed to the arena football league, before re-signing with the Packers and being allocated to NFL Europe's Cologne Centurions. He then went on to have seven successful seasons with Green Bay, including a Super Bowl in 2010, prior to signing with the Eagles in 2011.

- Played four years at division I-AA James Madison University, where he won a National Championship in 2004. "There are a lot of great players that came out of division I-AA, and I'm glad I got the chance to make it to the NFL," said Jordan. "It's something that motivates me every day. I'm constantly trying to prove that I'm able to play at this level."
- In 2007, Jordan became the first player from JMU to start in a NFL game since WR Macey Brooks started three games for the Bears in 2000. He also became one of five former Dukes to start in the NFL (Brooks, WR Gary Clark, DE Charles Haley, TE Ed Perry)
- Has won a championship at every level of football besides the NFL. "I have trophies from winning one in Pee Wee, a state title in high school and we were National Champions at JMU. All that's missing is a Super Bowl, and I hope to get that one too."
- Earned all-state honors as a LB and RB at Harrisonburg HS, where he helped his team to a state title as a junior. Also lettered in basketball and track

- While in college, made frequent trips to a nearby juvenile detention center to talk to kids. Plans to continue working with children after his football playing days are over. JASON KELCE 62

CENTER

6-3, 295	Born 11/5/87 in Cleveland Heights, OH
Cincinnati	Cleveland Heights HS, Cleveland, OH
2nd year	Acquired - D6a-11 (191st overall)

In only his second season, Jason Kelce has emerged as a leader on the offensive line. An athletic and intelligent player, Kelce was an immediate starter at center for the Eagles after being selected in the sixth round of the 2011 NFL Draft. A second-team All-Big East performer out of Cincinnati, Kelce started his final 38 games at center and guard during his 47-game career.

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Was named to Dallas Morning News columnist Rick Gosselin's NFL All-Rookie team after starting all 16 games for an offense that set team records in 1st downs (356) and total net yards (6,386)
- Along with Danny Watkins, became the first Eagles rookie linemen duo to start 10-or-more games in the same season
- Became the first Eagles rookie offensive lineman to start all 16 games since Doug Brzezineski did so in 1999 and the first-ever rookie in team history to start every game at the center position. He is also just the 16th player in NFL history to start every game at center during a rookie campaign
- Was part of an offensive line that received the Madden Protector Award at NYG (11/27) and vs. Dal. (10/30). This award is given each week of the regular season to the NFL's top performing offensive line and recognizes the fundamental role offensive linemen play in their teams' success

HAIRY SITUATION

When Jason Kelce first arrived on the scene in 2011, he was a freshly shaven rookie entering his first NFL season. Upon returning in 2012, teammates and fans noticed a change on the team's center. Kelce started growing a beard in the offseason and has vowed to keep it throughout the entire season and maybe beyond. Started on February 19, 2012, the beard has taken on a life of its own. A spoof Twitter account was even created to chronicle the musings and observations of the beard itself. The beard has a humorous take on life just like its owner. Check it out: @JKelceBeard

IN THE TRENCHES

- Position other than o-line you'd most like to play: Kicker
- Favorite offensive lineman of all time: Cleveland's Lou Groza
- Best part about playing offensive line: "Every play is a battle where there is a winner and a loser."
- Most underrated attribute of playing o-line: Intelligence
- Most memorable block: "I was a junior at Cincinnati and there was an outside zone play. I broke off of a double team and pushed the linebacker back into the safety. I basically blocked 3 different guys on the play and it was a 60-yard touchdown run."
- Best player he's ever lined up against: Jay Ratliff
- Advice to aspiring young offensive linemen: "Use your brain."
- Best/worst part about being 6-3, 295: "The best part is I can see everything in a crowded place. The worst is that I can never find clothes that fit."

BIRDSEED

- Grew up playing a variety of different sports including hockey, lacrosse, soccer, and baseball. He eventually focused on football because of his fondness for contact.

  "Playing all of those sports has helped me be able to adapt to any circumstances that are thrown my way."
- One of the Eagles most active and humorous tweeters, Kelce successfully undertook the venture of following all of his followers, which at the time was over 10,000. You can follow him @Jkelce.

  "It's just a really fun way to interact with the fans. I love it."
- Pundits have described Kelce as the stereotype of a "Howard Mudd player." In fact, many compare him to former Colts center and Mudd protege Jeff Saturday, both in looks and in style of play. Andy Reid went as far as to say that Kelce could be Mudd's son. A student of the game, Kelce visited with Saturday following his rookie season to see if there was anything he could learn from the former Colts center.

  "One of the biggest things I learned from him is really that it's not only a physical battle between you and the defensive linemen, but it's also a mental battle. You need to constantly be studying their tendencies, and at the same time realize that they are doing the same things to prepare against you."

A CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK

"This kid could be, like, Howard's son. Not only do they look alike and act alike, their playing styles are the same. He's a phenomenal athlete, to start with...and on top of that, he's a smart kid."

-Eagles Head Coach Andy Reid

Kelce's favorite quote is one that his grandfather gave him prior to walking on at Cincinnati. He has since kept a copy of the quote with him at all times.

"Nothing in this world can take the place of persistence. Talent will not; nothing is more common than unsuccessful people with talent. Genius will not; unrewarded genius is almost a proverb. Education will not; the world is full of educated derelicts. Persistence and determination alone are omnipotent. The slogan 'press on' has solved and always will solve the problems of the human race." - Calvin Coolidge

JASON KELCE

PERSONAL

- Attended Cleveland Heights High School, performing as a linebacker and running back for head coach Mike Jones. Was a two-time All Lake Erie-Lake League selection
- Graduated from Cincinnati with a degree in marketing
- Comes from a football lineage, as his younger brother, Travis, was a teammate at Cincinnati (2008-10) as a tight end. His uncle, Don Blalock, played defensive tackle for Purdue (1976-77) and his grandfather, Don Blalock, played football at Ohio University
- Son of Donna and Ed Kelce. Donna works in banking, while Ed is a sales rep in the steel business. Cites his dad as the biggest influence on his career. "He really pushed me to be the best I could be and was somebody that I've always looked up to."
- Favorite teams/players growing up: "I was a huge fan of all the Cleveland sports teams. I was also a fan of the star players like Michael Jordan, Wayne Gretzky and Jerome Bettis."
- Says his greatest love besides football is music. In fact, Kelce dabbles with just about every musical instrument he can find. "When I was in fourth grade I started playing the saxophone and I really enjoyed it, so after high school I started to try out other instruments - guitar, piano, harmonica. Once you learn how to read music, it's not that hard to figure out how to play a new instrument."

SWITCHING SIDES

A former running back and linebacker in high school, Kelce walked on to Cincinnati's football program to play linebacker, but a head coaching change altered his career path. Following his freshman season, new coach Brian Kelly and strength coach Paul Longo switched the 240-pound Kelce to center in the spring. Kelce made the permanent switch the following season and was finally offered a scholarship. He went on to start his final 38 games as a center and guard during his 47-game career.

"Playing linebacker has definitely helped me as an offensive lineman. If you can get in the head of the players you are going up against, that's a huge advantage, like a quarterback who knows what the safeties are thinking. Playing running back, linebacker, guard and now center, I've seen a little bit of everything."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Kelce started his final 38 games at Cincinnati during a 47-game career – 26 at left guard and 12 at center
- Started 12 games at center in 2010, and was an All-American honorable mention and All-Big East Conference first-team selection by The NFL Draft Report, adding second-team All-Big East honors from the league's coaches
- Helped an inexperienced unit lead the Big East in passing offense (260.7 yards per game), total offense (417.3 yards per game) and scoring offense (27.1 points per game), despite injuries at the quarterback position
- As a junior in 2009, earned All-Big East Conference second-team honors while starting all 13 games at left guard

Purdue	Marian Catholic HS, Chicago Heights, IL
Rookie	Acquired - D5-2012 (153rd overall)

The Eagles selected Dennis Kelly in the 5th round of the 2012 NFL draft. A four-year letterman at Purdue, Kelly was named a team co-captain as a senior after being voted as the team's offensive MVP following his junior season.

BIRDSEED

- Claims that the biggest influence on his life and career is his entire family. "We're a Southside [Chicago] Irish family, so we share a really tight bond and they've inspired me to get to where I am today."
- Best part about playing football: "The family feeling that a football team provides. Even though there is a competitive nature in every aspect of the sport, it's great to bond with your teammates."
- Most underrated attribute at tackle: "The one-on-one aspect of the game. Although you're competing as an offensive and as a line to accomplish certain goals, tackles are the only offensive position who are put out on an island or out in space and have a protection assignment."
- Pregame rituals: "I have a playlist that changes every year, and I'll listen to that before every game. I also make it a point to read the game program."
- Favorite thing about the city of Philadelphia: "It's close to everything. I love how the sports stadiums and facilities are so close to one another. The city is also close to the beach, and it's only an hour or so to New York also."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Voted a team co-captain as a senior in 2011
- Named the team MVP on offense as a junior in 2010. Started in all 12 games and helped anchor an offensive line that blocked for a school-record five consecutive games with 200+ rushing yards

- Started at left tackle in all 12 games as a sophomore in 2009 and garnered Academic All-Big Ten honors
- Appeared in five games as a reserve during his freshman campaign in 2008

MYCHAL KENDRICKS 95

LINEBACKER

5-11, 239	Born 9/28/90 in Fresno, CA
California	Hoover HS, Fresno, CA
Rookie	Acquired - D2a-12 (46th overall)

The Eagles selected Mychal (pronounced Michael) Kendricks in the second round of the 2012 NFL Draft (46th overall). The speedy, playmaking linebacker appeared in all 51 games during his four-year career at Cal, and was named as the Pac-12's Defensive Player of the Year following his senior season in 2011. Kendricks finished his collegiate career with 258 tackles, 13.5 sacks and four interceptions. The Fresno, CA enters the 2012 season as the Eagles starting SAM linebacker.

BIRDSEED

A MAN OF MANY TALENTS

While he was always known for his athletic talents on the field growing up, Kendricks' passion off the field is in the fine arts. In fact, Kendricks attended Bullard Talent, a private school that specializes in the fine arts from kindergarten thru 8th grade. While there, Kendricks acted in plays like Robin Hood, Aladdin and the Lion King. He also learned to dance in hip-hop, urban, tapp and jazz styles. Said Kendricks: "I really have an appreciation for all kinds of art and going there really instilled that in me at a young age. I would go there during the day and then play sports for other schools. I remember you'd have to win a raffle to get your kids in, so my mom did that for me and I got lucky."

- Mychal's father, Marvin, was on the Eagles training camp roster in 1972 after playing college football at UCLA, where he led the Bruins in rushing twice in 1970 and 1971. Said Mychal: "He was so happy the day I got drafted here because the Eagles were his team. I remember being so excited, but he may have even been more excited. He followed them all the time when I was growing up. It was a dream come true for the both of us."
- His three brothers all played or currently play college football: Chad (graduated Sacramento State), Terence (graduated Fresno State) and Eric (sophomore at UCLA)
- Most under-rated attribute of playing linebacker: "You need to be a little crazy. All good linebackers either have a few screws loose or a few screws wound too tight. It's a high-contact position and you need to not only not be afraid to constantly hit people, you need to love it. Only crazy people can do that."
- A huge fan of former Broncos running back Terrell Davis growing up, Kendricks donned #30 in college in honor of him

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Played in all 51 games (29 starts) during his four-year career at California, amassing 258 tackles, adding 36.5 tackles for a loss and 13.5 sacks. He also notched seven fumble recoveries, four interceptions, one touchdown return, and a blocked punt
- Earned several All-America selections as a senior in 2011, and was named the Pac-12's Defensive Player of the Year, playing in all 13 games with 11 starts, leading the team in tackles with a career-high 106, while adding two interceptions and three sacks
- Earned second-team All-Pac-10 honors as a junior in 2010, leading Cal and ranking among the conference and national leaders with 8.5 sacks, while his 66 tackles was fourth on the team
- Also captured the Dick Artal Award on defense for the player best exemplifying Cal spirit and attitude
- As a sophomore in 2009, finished second on team in tackles with 71, adding one sack and one interception that he returned 68 yards for a touchdown vs. UCLA
- Played in all 13 games as a freshman in 2008, recording 15 tackles, one sack, and one blocked punt

QUOTES

ALL-PRO PRAISE

"He's dedicated to studying and knowing everything about his position. He doesn't mind asking questions. A lot of young guys are afraid to ask questions, but Mychal; he's very inquisitive about what he should be doing on certain plays, alignment. He wants to know every intricate detail of his job and that makes a difference." -All-Pro LB DeMeco Ryans

- Andy Reid on why the Eagles drafted Kendricks: "The one thing that really interests me there is we're getting a phenomenal pass rusher on that side. We're getting someone who can really cover the tight end, and his pass cover skills are a strong part of his game. When you see the way he's built, you'll understand. He plays a very physical game ... You're also getting a team captain and a tenacious football player. He's one of those guys who loves to play the game."
- Defensive coordinator Juan Castillo on Kendricks: "He has a look...that you don't want to see him in a dark alley. He's a linebacker, he's the way a linebacker is supposed to be."

DEREK LANDRI 94

DEFENSIVE TACKLE

6-2, 290	Born 9/21/83 in Newport Beach, CA
Notre Dame	De La Salle HS, Concord, CA
6th year	Acquired - FA (Car) 2011

A hard-working player with a relentless motor, Derek Landri re-signed with the Eagles on 4/9/12 after a successfull 2011 campaign with the club, in which he led the team with 8 tackles for a loss despite only playing in 12 games. After spending training camp and preseason with the Eagles, Landri was released prior to the start of the regular season but re-joined the squad in Week 5 and made an immediate impact. A former fifth-round pick of Jacksonville in 2007, Landri spent his first three seasons with the Jaguars before playing for the Carolina Panthers in 2010, where he started in all 16 games and recorded a career-high three sacks.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Played in 51 games over four years with Jacksonville (2007-2009) and Carolina (2009-10), recording 115 tackles, 6 sacks and 2 passes defensed
- Sacked Steelers quarterback Ben Roethlisberger for a three-yard loss during the second quarter of the 2007 AFC Wild Card game at Pit. (1/5/08). Also intercepted Roethlisberger with 57 seconds left in the first half and recovered a fumble by Roethlisberger on the Steelers' final offensive play to seal a 31-29 victory

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Led the team with 8 tackles for loss
- Blocked a 36-yard field goal attempt (G. Gano) in the second quarter vs. Was. (1/1/12) with the Eagles leading 3-0. The blocked field goal led to a Chad Hall touchdown reception on the ensuing drive to close out the half
- Sacked QB Stephen McGee for a 7 yard loss in the fourth quarter during a 20-7 victory at Dal (12/24)
- Recovered a fourth quarter fumble of Giants QB Eli Manning forced by teammate Jason Babin at NYG (11/20). The turnover came with 1:17 seconds left in the game and helped seal a 17-10 victory for the Eagles
- Recorded his first sack with the Eagles, dropping QB John Skelton for a seven-yard loss in the third quarter vs. Ari. (11/13)

BIRDSEED

- In his first visit to Philadelphia as a member of the Panthers for a preseason game in 2010, Landri claims that he went to Pat's, Geno's and Jim's the day of the game and ate three cheesesteaks. Said Landri: "I didn't know if I'd ever be back, so I had to try everything. I didn't know if I'd make it through the game after that."
- If he wasn't in football, Landri thinks he'd be working for CytoSport, a company that makes athletic performance-enhancing supplements and products. In fact, Landri did an internship with the company while he was in high school. Said Landri: "I'm a big fan of their products and the way they operate. It's something I could definitely see myself getting more involved in one day."
- His favorite moment in sports growing up was when his high school, De La Salle, beat Long Beach Poly 29-14 as a senior. "We were ranked #1 and they were ranked #2 in the nation at the time. We both had so many great players on our teams. That was a great moment."
- Does work with the Terrance Kelly Youth Foundation. Terrance went to the same high school as Landri and received a full scholarship to Oregon to play football. Before he ever made it there, Kelly was tragically shot and killed in the community by his house. Terrance's family started the foundation in his honor to motivate youth from impoverished communities to gain a broader view of the world, enabling them to rise above the negative circumstances prevalent in both the community and their lives. For more information please log on to www.tkyf28.org
- Enjoys watching cooking shows and The History Channel

OLD SCHOOL

A history major in college, Derek Landri applies that interest into his everyday life. "I really am an old soul," said Landri. "I don't own an iPhone or anything like that. I never would. I don't like flashy stuff. If it's 'old school,' I'm usually a fan of it."

As evidence of that ... one of his favorite hobbies is collecting old coins and paper money. His favorite musician is Johnny Cash. In addition, his favorite athlete growing up was legendary Bears linebacker Dick Butkus. "I just loved his nasty attitude. He didn't give a crap about anything. That's how I kind of like to envision myself on the field."

A fifth-round draft choice in 2011, Dion Lewis enters his second season in Philadelphia after serving as a reserve tailback and kick returner last season. Lewis played two season at Pittsburgh and finished his collegiate career ranked fourth all-time on the Panthers rushing list. Lewis also compiled more 100+ yard rushing performances than any other freshman running back in program history.

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Totaled 102 yards on 23 carries and added 669 kickoff return yards during his rookie campaign

BIRDSEED

- Ever since he first stepped on the football field, Lewis had aspirations of being a professional football player. "I was good at a young age," Lewis said. "The NFL was my lifelong dream. I knew that if I worked hard, the chances of getting to the NFL were higher."
- Favorite sports moment of his life: When he tied Pittsburgh's record for most 100+ yard outings set by Tony Dorsett. "At first, it was a little bittersweet because I wound up fumbling on the same play, and I think I could have kept going for a touchdown," Lewis said. "When they told me after the game that's when I had the record, I was happy to have accomplished that."
- Lewis respects the passion of the Philadelphia fans. "They're absolutely die-hard. They might let you know when they're upset, but they'll always come out and support the Eagles at games no matter what."
- Would meet with former NBA star Michael Jordan to have dinner if he had the opportunity: "I would ask about his career and what motivated him to become one of the greatest players of all-time."
- Enjoys interacting with fans and his friends on his Twitter page, @DionLewis28. Twitter is also his favorite app on his iPhone

PERSONAL

- Was named the New Jersey Prep Offensive Player of the Year as a senior at Blair Academy after averaging an astounding 14.1 yards per carry, rushing for 1,243 yards on 88 attempts
- Rushed for over 250 yards four times as a senior and scored 26 total touchdowns (23 rushing, two punt return, one receiving)
- Lettered three years in track
- Credits his parents, Leroy (former construction worker) and Linda (social worker) as the biggest influences on his career. "Growing up, they were hard on me and they made sure I stayed out of trouble," Lewis said. "That helped me out a lot later on in life."

RUNNING BACK HOME TO HELP

Lewis was touched by the story of Louis Perkinson, a 16-year old high school student from Colonie, NY who was in a coma due to complications from an operation to remove a brain tumor. "We had the same pop warner coaches who I still keep in contact with, and they talked about what a great kid he was," Lewis said. During a high school basketball game between Ballston Spa and Colonie Central, Lewis helped raise funds for the Perkinson family who was struggling to pay the Louis' rising hospital bills due to a four-week hospital stay. "I felt the need to do something and give back to a great cause in my home town," Lewis said. "Everyone is not as fortunate as we are, especially in that area, and it's great to give back whenever you get the chance."

JEREMY MACLIN 18

WIDE RECEIVER

6-0, 198	Born 5/11/88 in St. Louis, MO
Missouri	Kirkwood HS, Kirkwood, MO
4th year	Acquired - D1-09 (19th overall)

Regarded by many as one of the toughest players in the Eagles locker room, Maclin has successfully battled through adversity on and off the field throughout his life and now symbolizes a productive, reliable and explosive player on an elite offense. Since joining the squad as a first round draft pick in 2009, Maclin has led the team with 189 receptions, including a team-leading 63 grabs in 2011.

BIRDSEED

- After enduring a difficult childhood in which he was abandoned by his father, Maclin was primarily raised by Jeff Parres and his wife, Cindy. Jeff, a urologist, was Maclin's little league football coach when he was nine years old. Maclin spent a lot of time with the Parres family growing up and by the time he was a sophomore in high school, he was living with them full-time. Jeremy also remains close with his biological mother, Cleo, and his two older brothers, Roshon and Andre. "There are a lot of people in my life who have influenced me to get to this point. Obviously, the family I lived with. They definitely played a big part in why I'm here. I learned a lot of things from my real family, too ... I feel like I've gone through a lot of stuff in my life, throughout my childhood. I feel like there's not much that can really faze me. That's why I feel like I'm fine with anything that's thrown out there against me."

MACLIN'S COMMITMENT TO YOUTH FOOTBALL

One of Jeremy's favorite charitable intiatives is the promotion of youth football. In addition to donating time, money, and equipment to both the West Deptford and Kirkwood youth football league, Maclin also holds annual football camps in both locations. "It brings excitement," Maclin said. "We learn as much from them as they do from us. That's what this is all about. These kids never forget to have fun. They want to get better but these kids are out here to have fun. That's important to never forget."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- With 189 catches from 2009-11, trailed only TE Keith Jackson (194) for the most ever by an Eagle in first three NFL seasons
- Maclin (21 years old), Brent Celek (24), and DeSean Jackson (23) became the first trio of teammates age 24-years-old-or-younger in NFL history to each post 50+ catches, 750+ yards and 4+ touchdowns in a season in 2009
- In 2011, Maclin, Jackson and Celek became the first trio of teammates to each post 800+ yards in team history.
- Became the first Eagles rookie to ever post two 40+ yard TD receptions in the same game (51 and 40 yards vs. TB on 10/11/09)
- Set an Eagles postseason record with 146 receiving yards at Dal. (1/9/10). His 146 yards were the most ever by a rookie in the postseason. He also became the youngest player (21 years old) in NFL history with a postseason TD catch on a career-long 76 yarder from QB Michael Vick

PERSONAL

- Resides in Kirkwood, MO, and South Jersey
- Favorite aspects of Philadelphia: "I really enjoy the historical monuments. My personal favorites are the Liberty Bell and the Betsy Ross House."
- Most underrated aspect of being a wide receiver: "Toughness. Blocking, taking hits, and going across the middle are all a big part of the game."
- Began playing football at the age of nine as a running back, defensive end and linebacker for the Kirkwood (MO) Cowboys. Scored 32 touchdowns in his first season of football and helped his team to a 72-3 record over four seasons, including a national championship at the age of 11 when they beat a team from Tucker, GA, in Florida

- Also starred in basketball at Kirkwood, earning honorable-mention All-State and first-team All-Conference as a junior guard, averaging 13.3 points, 5.2 assists and 4.1 steals per game. Chose to pursue football in college because of his love for the game. "Football was the sport that I loved. I woke up every day and couldn't imagine not playing football."
- Majored in sociology

J-MAC GIVES BACK

Jeremy has decided that one of the most important aspects of his football life off-the-field is to give back as much as he possibly can. He has given back in a big way so far and looks forward to continuing to do so in the coming years.

NATIONAL ADOPTION CENTER

Jeremy has partnered with the Delaware Valley chapter of the National Adoption Center to bring children in foster care out to Eagles games in 2012. The child and their caretakers will receive sideline passes and tickets to a game, and will have a meet and greet with Jeremy afterwards. The cause is very close to Maclin's heart, as he was taken in by the Parres family after his mother could not provide for him and his brothers.

SCHOLARSHIP CONTRIBUTIONS

Recognizing the importance of education, Jeremy has created two scholarships to which he contributes annually: the Jeremy Maclin Football Endowment at Mizzou as well as the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Jeremy Maclin Scholarship

JMAC'S BACK TO SCHOOL PACKS

On an annual basis, Maclin provides kids in the Kirkwood-Meacham Park Area with a back pack and all school year essentials

CURTIS MARSH 31

CORNERBACK

6-1, 197	Born 3/1/88 in West Hills, CA
Utah State	Royal HS, Simi Valley, CA
2nd year	Acquired - D3-11 (90th overall)

A converted running back during his collegiate career at Utah State, Curtis Marsh was selected in the third round in 2011 and spent most of his rookie season learning the Eagles scheme, while seeing action in the team's final seven contests. Marsh played two seasons at cornerback for Utah State after converting from running back following his sophomore campaign. He earned second-team All-WAC honors after his senior season. His collegiate accomplishments along with a third round draft status symbolize the hard work and perseverance of a player that did not receive a scholarship offer coming out of high school.

BIRDSEED

- Credits his college defensive backs coach, Cory Raymond (now with LSU), as the biggest influence on his career. "He taught me everything I know about playing cornerback. I woke up every morning at 6 am to work on technique with him in the summer after I moved to cornerback." Raymond also introduced boxing to Marsh to supplement his training regimen. "I worked out at a Rulon Gardner gym in Logan, Utah and it really helped my balance and hand-eye coordination. I also found a gym in Philadelphia."
- Captured the Pop Warner Super Bowl as a 12-year old running back and cornerback for the Simi Valley Vikings. Opposing Simi Valley in that championship game was the Agoura Chargers, led by current Eagles teammate Casey Matthews. "I still talk trash to him all the time about that game," laughed Marsh
- Following his one season of football at the Naval Academy Prep School in 2006, Marsh quickly began calling and e-mailing coaches looking for a Division I football scholarships. Utah State obliged and Marsh is forever thankful despite his family's wishes for him to remain in the Naval Academy

BOOT CAMP TO THE FIELD

After receiving no scholarship offers coming out of high school in California, Marsh enrolled at the Naval Academy and was sent to Newport, RI, to the Naval Academy Prep School for the 2006 season. He endured boot camp while attending school and playing football. Along the way, he gained a valuable life lesson. "I'm self sufficient now. I got over homesickness really fast. Boot camp was very intense, mentally," recalled Marsh.

PERSONAL

- Names his mother, Trayci, as the biggest hero in his life. "She was a single mom, worked two to three jobs, and struggled to keep it together for us. She sacrificed a lot and I just bought her a house in Simi Valley," said Marsh
- His father, Curtis Marsh, Sr., was a wide receiver for Jacksonville (1995-96) and Pittsburgh (1997). He played collegiately at Utah
- Has three brothers and one sister, including his younger brother, Cassius, a defensive lineman at UCLA
- Committed to play football for the US Naval Academy out of high school and spent the 2006 season at the Naval Academy Prep School in Newport, RI. Signed with Utah St. in December, 2006
- Played running back and cornerback at Royal HS in Simi Valley, CA, and earned all-county and all-league honors after leading the county with 1,608 rushing yards and 12 touchdowns as a senior. Also added 55 tackles and two INTs
- Also starred on Royal's track and field squad, finishing third in the state with a 23'-10" long jump and second in the county with a 10.6 time in the 100-meter dash
- Donated money to his former Pop Warner football team in Simi Valley for those players in need of equipment and plans to make that donation every year
- Inspired by his personal experience early in life, aspires to one day set up a foundation that helps single mothers
- Idolized former Broncos RB Terrell Davis growing up and has read his autobiography, TD:Dreams in Motion, numerous times

YOUTHFUL ENERGY

McCoy has established himself as capable of handling a big workload on the ground. Head Coach Andy Reid says part of that can be attributed to his youthful energy and desire to play. "He's very young, too, remember that," said Reid. "He's the one doing all of the jumping around in the locker room afterward. I mean, he's riding a bike with 1:30 left in the game. He's got this phenomenal energy and he loves to play. I joke around a little bit but when he gets pulled out of a game he's not a real happy camper; he wants to be in there and he wants to play."

BIRDSEED

- Nicknamed "Shady" by his mother. "My Mom said I was a shady baby. One minute I'd be smiling, the next I'd be shy. She gave me the nickname and it just kind of stuck."
- Remains involved in the Harrisburg community and donates uniforms to the Harrisburg Broncos, the youth football team he grew up playing on
- Also has embraced the Philadelphia community, participating in many local charity events, including a holiday shopping spree with Kisses for Kyle and a Thanksgiving turkey giveaway in 2011. "I'm just trying to do my best to give back. I've been so blessed in my life, and it's also a blessing to be able to help out people in need."
- Claims his older brother, LeRon, is his biggest role model. "Just the way he handled himself. He set the bar high for me. He played for the (Arizona) Cardinals (2005-06) and a couple of other teams (San Francisco 49ers, 2007, and Houston Texans, 2008). He was not really recruited out of high school but he went to a Division II school and made it out."
- Credits Brian Westbrook with his development as a professional. "B-West has been a major influence on me. He taught me how to be a professional and how to prepare every week to be successful. You have to be able to treat it like a job because there are so many things you need to do to get ready for the games."
- Remains good friends with former Eagles RB Ricky Watters, as the two both attended Bishop McDevitt HS in Harrisburg, PA.

  "I've learned a lot from Ricky. Probably the biggest thing he taught me was how to separate football from all the potential distractions. At this level, you have to be able to do that."

Has organized many charity events, including community days, football camps, and basketball tournaments in his hometown of Harrisburg. It's a terrible disease and we need to do everything we can to raise money to fight it." McCoy also organized a charity softball tournament in 2012 that takes place at the Lancaster Barnstormers minor league stadium.

THE CLOSER

McCoy has established himself as one of the top big-play running backs in the league, but he has been especially dangerous with the game on the line. Since his rookie year in 2009, McCoy has consistently made big game-breaking runs in the fourth quarter, and ranks among the league leaders in many of the major rushing categories.

- Since 2009, McCoy has racked up 873 yards and 8 touchdowns in the fourth quarter on just 164 carries, which ranks as the second-highest average (5.3) in the NFL, trailing only Jamaal Charles (6.3)
- Eight of McCoy's 28 rushing touchdowns have come in the fourth quarter, including his four longest (66, 50, 49, 46)
- All eight of his fourth-quarter touchdowns have contributed to sealing an Eagles victory

LeSEAN'S LINEAGE

Over the years, the Eagles offense has featured versatile running backs who are not only successful running the ball and limiting fumbles, but also who are skilled at catching it out of the backfield and in pass protection. From Duce Staley to Brian Westbrook and now to LeSean McCoy, the newest back in Andy Reid's lineage says he sees how tricks of the trade have been passed down the line.

"Playing with Brian, I learned a lot about all the ins and outs of the position," said McCoy. "After working with Duce, I realize that Brian has a lot of Duce in him. Some of the same things I learned from Brian were reinforced by Duce, so being able to work with those guys has been huge in my development"

Player	Rushing Yds/Game	Receiving Yds/Game	Touches Per Fumble
D. Staley (1997-03)	49.1	22.7	81.9
B. Westbrook (2003-09)	56.0	35.1	144.6
L. McCoy (since 2009)	65.8	26.4	160.2

Andy Reid on McCoy's development as a player:

"We knew he could catch the football and we knew he could run the football. Brian Westbrook was a big part of this of kind of telling him the little ins and outs of it. Ted [Williams] is a veteran coach for that position, so that's helped, and then having Duce here, he gets another little side of it from a player's perspective."

Reid on McCoy's blocking abilities:

"I mentioned this one when LeSean came here that his biggest challenge was going to be pass blocking. You knew he could catch the ball. You knew he could run it. You knew he had a brain in his head that he could pick things up. It was a matter of, can he get this pass blocking thing under control? And then all the reads that are involved in it and he was able to do it."

NATE MENKIN 74

TACKLE/GUARD

6-4, 296	Born 10/4/88 in Lago Vista, TX
Mary Hardin-Baylor	Lago Vista HS, Lago Vista, TX
Rookie	Acquired - Waivers [Hou] 2012

An All-America standout from Division III powerhouse Mary Hardin-Baylor, Nate Menkin became just the second UMHB alum to ever sign a contract in the NFL, joining current Indianapolis Colts LB Jerrell Freeman. Claimed by the Eagles off of waivers from the Texans on 9/1/12, Menkin orginially signed as a rookie free agent with Houston but was released as part of the team's final roster cutdown. Named the American Southwest Conference offensive lineman of the year as a senior, he helped lead the Crusaders to four conference titles and a 48-6 overall record during his four years with the program.

BIRDSEED

- Claims that he would be in the WWE if he wasn't playing football. "I watch it and I think it's really cool and exciting," said Menkin. "I'd like to think of myself as a little goofy. I have a personality, and I like working out religiously, so I think all three go together with the WWE. I think it'd be a lot of fun. Entertainment is a lot of fun to me." His favorite wrestler is former Miami gridiron standout Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson
- Credits his late mother, Marleen, as being the biggest influence in his life. His drive to never give up on the task at hand was instilled in him as he watched his mother fight breast cancer. "I'm just one of those people, when I start something, I don't quit," Menkin stated. "I get that from my mom."
- Even though he resided in Texas, Menkin grew up a fan of the Philadelphia Eagles and remembers watching the Birds run to the Super Bowl in 2004. "That's around the time when I started playing football and I started watching them then and have just kept watching ever since."
- Recruited as a defensive end and tight end out of Lago Vista High School, Menkin's shift to the offensive line occured early during his days at Mary Hardin-Baylor when the coaching staff wanted to utilize his combination of size and athleticism. "I've always been the type of player that is like, 'Yes sir. I'll do whatever for the team, sir.' So the coach asked, 'Do you want to play offensive tackle for us?' At first, I was a little skeptical. I wanted to play defensive end because I wanted to tackle people and I thought I was a more athletic and bigger guy, which I was in DIII. He wanted me to protect the passer."
- Became just the second player ever from the Division III Mary Hardin-Baylor to be signed by an NFL team, joining Indianapolis Colts LB Jerrell Freeman

PHILLY CONNECTION

Menkin's high school football games were played at Sisemore Field, which derives it's name from former Eagle T and Texas native Jerry Sisemore. Sisemore, who played in Philadelphia from 1973-84, served as the school board president in Hill County after his playing days were over. The former two-time Pro Bowl selection helped establish a football program at Lago Vista so families interested in high school football would not have to move to another town.

IN THE TRENCHES

- Best part of being an o-lineman: "The camaraderie. Being in the trenches."
- Most underrated attribute being an o-lineman: "The athleticism. If we went on a diet, we'd be 270 lbs., pure muscle."
- Best player you've ever lined up against: Texans OLB Connor Barwin
- Advice to aspiring offensive linemen: "Know and do the little things. Do whatever it takes to be more prepared than your opponent."

MIKE PATTERSON 98

DEFENSIVE TACKLE

6-1, 300	Born 9/1/83 in Sacramento, CA
USC	Los Alamitos HS, Los Alamitos, CA
8th year	Acquired - D1-05 (31st overall)

One of the toughest and most dependable players in the confines of the Eagles locker room, Mike Patterson is in his 8th season in Philadelphia after being drafted in the first round in 2005. The fact that he played an entire season in 2011 was truly remarkable considering he was diagnosed with a rare brain condition called arteriovenous malformation (AVM) that caused him to have a seizure during a training camp practice in August. Patterson continues to recover from offseason surgery to repair his AVM and was placed on the Reserve/Non-Football Illness list on 8/27/12. A proven force against the run, Patterson is in the midst of a seven-year contract extension that he signed in 2006 and elapses in 2016.

BIRDSEED

- Endured a six-hour surgery in the 2012 offseason to repair his AVM. The procedure, which left an 8-inch scar, was performed by Dr. Robert Spetzler in Phoenix and consisted of drilling open his skull to get behind his right eye to untangle the nerves that caused the AVM and the seizure. "I was a little bit nervous about the recovery part and how I'd feel right after the surgery, but otherwise it was fine."
- Credits his college defensive line coach, Ed Orgeron, for teaching him the finer points of being a defensive tackle. "He is a really rowdy guy and he got me tough, mentally. If not, he'll break you."
- An all-state wrestler in high school, Patterson used his stout, solid body to create leverage to pin his opponents. He now uses those same techniques to help him fend off offensive linemen. "Wrestling taught me how to stay low," Patterson said. "It's the same technique as on the defensive line. You have to stay low and use your hands. I was originally an offensive lineman in high school, but as soon as football coaches saw how aggressive I was when I wrestled, they moved me over to defense."
- Would like to open up a restaurant after his playing career is finished and is trying to come up with the right theme. "I grew up around that in my family and it seems like a lot of fun. My father owned a restaurant [Touch of Class in Sacramento] and my mom worked in a kitchen at the hospital for many years." His first job was as a cook at Los Alamitos Army Base for two summers, where his uncle was a sergeant

TRUE COURAGE

During a training camp practice on August 3, 2011, Patterson suffered a seizure on the practice fields and was rushed to the hospital. He was later diagnosed with an arteriovenous malformation (AVM) on his brain – a tangle of blood vessels. He visited with four different doctors who specialize in AVM cases and also visited with a seizure specialist. The doctors cleared him to return to football, which he did just 17 days after his seizure, deciding to delay any procedures to fix the AVM until after the season. Because of what he overcame, Patterson was named the team's 2011 Ed Block Courage Award recipient in a vote by his teammates.

"He always plays in the right place and does the right thing, and he always plays hard and knows what to do. This is a constant ... That's a comfort to a coach to know that he's always going to do the right thing. Mike Patterson might be one of the best people I ever met." - Jim Washburn

- Earned the nickname, "Bam-Bam," as a kid because he had an unusual history of breaking things and sometimes hurting himself. "I always used to break glass and things like that. JASON PETERS 71

TACKLE

6-4, 328	Born 1/22/82 in Queen City, TX
Arkansas	Queen City HS, Queen City, TX
9th year	Acquired - Trade (Buf) 2009

Pro Bowls: 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011

In 2000, he was a redshirt defensive lineman in college, laboring on Arkansas' scout team. In 2004, he was a rookie free agent tight end just looking for playing time in Buffalo. Now, he is a five-time Pro Bowl offensive tackle who is building his resume for a spot in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. In between is the remarkable story of Jason Peters, who is regarded by many experts as the best left tackle in the game, and who has anchored the Eagles offensive line since being acquired in a trade from Buffalo in 2009. Peters, who is signed through 2014, will miss at least the first six weeks of the 2012 season after being placed on the Reserve/Non-Football Injury list on 8/27/12 while recovering from a ruptured Achilles tendon he suffered in the offseason.

BIRDSEED

- Credits former Bills coach Mike Mularkey for his career-changing switch from tight end to offensive tackle in 2005. "Offensive line was one of our weak points at that point and I just remember wanting to get on the field any way I could. Coach Mularkey told me about it and Mouse (offensive line coach Jim McNally) and I got to work."
- A student of the game, he relishes in learning and knowing all of the details of playing offensive line. "You have to know what the defense is trying to do to you at all times. And that takes film work and experience. You have to keep an eye on the safeties."
- Peters on the unique style of Eagles O-line coach Howard Mudd, "He's a great coach and he coaches us really hard. Every day can feel like you are a rookie again. But he always encourages us and says something positive while getting on you at the same time. He never, ever wants us to get beat."
- Went undrafted despite an impressive workout at the NFL scouting combine, including a 4.8 time in the 40-yard dash. Credits the draft-day snub with giving him extra motivation. "I've always been a hard worker, but I started working even harder when I didn't get drafted. I just kind of put it all on myself, I put it on my shoulders and decided to get it done."

TRUCKIN' ON & OFF THE FIELD

Thanks to his grandfather, Dallas Wiggins, buying and restoring cars has been a passion in Jason's life. "He used to take all these old cars and fix them up. When I was little I was always hanging around watching him and my uncle, and I got hooked"

Now, Peters owns anywhere from 10-15 cars and loves taking the time to get dirty under the hood to fix them up. His prized possession, though, is a PS Freightliner (pictured below). "I use it to tow my camper and my other cars. I taught myself how to drive it."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- A key contributer to an Eagles offensive line that helped engineer the highest scoring offense in team history in 2010 (439 points) and a team record 6,386 total net yards in 2011
- Earned Pro Bowl honors in 5 consecutive seasons (2007-11) and All-Pro honors following the 2007, '08, '10, and '11 campaigns
- Joined Frank "Bucko" Kilroy (1953-55) as the only two offensive linemen in franchise history to earn a Pro Bowl berth in three consecutive years
- The only other NFL lineman with a current streak of 5 straight Pro Bowl berths: Browns OT Joe Thomas
- Scored two career TDs. Blocked a punt and recovered it in the end zone (12/19/04 at Cin.) and caught JP Losman's first career TD pass (9/11/05 vs. Hou.)

INJURY REPORT

- Placed on the Reserve/Non-Football Injury list on 8/27/12 after suffering a ruptured Achilles tendon in the offseason
- Underwent successful surgery on 4/3/12 after suffering a ruptured Achilles tendon while training in Texas on 3/27

Bucket List: Do for my son what I could not do growing up
Talent Most Like to Have: To be an engineer for Microsoft and invent something as impactful as the internet

QUOTES

- NBC Sunday Night Football analyst Cris Collinsworth on Peters: "To get a big guy playing tackle that can pass protect like he does and work his way down the field, God didn't create many people like him."
- Howard Mudd on Peters: "If anyone doesn't think [Peters is the best left tackle in the league], I would categorically ask them to give me one who is as good. I didn't say better. I said as good. So that puts him in a pretty rarified place."
- Evan Mathis on Peters: "To be that big and be as athletic as he is, it's unbelievable. To sum him up as an athlete, he's light on his feet. To say someone who's what, 345-350 pounds, is light on his feet is really not something you ever hear. But he can move."

RUNNING BACK

5-11, 222	Born 12/16/89 in Redlands, CA
Washington	Redlands East Valley HS, Redlands, CA
Rookie	Acquired - Rookie FA (2012)

The Eagles signed Chris Polk as a rookie free agent following the 2012 NFL Draft. A first-team All-Pac 12 performer, Polk rushed for 4,049 yards during his collegiate career at Washington, finishing as the school's second-leading rusher.

BIRDSEED

- Credits his mother, Edrena, to getting him where he is today. "With everything she went through, raising me and having to make a living, she motivates me to be the best I can be and try harder every day."
- What he loves most about football: "The camaraderie aspect is the best part for me. There's always competition between everyone, but you always build friendships with your teammates."
- Most underrated attribute at running back: "Patience. You can't just go out there and run because you need to wait for things to develop. You need to have knowledge of what the opposing defense is going to do so you can make your reads. Once you see how they're lining up, you need to know the play and your assignment, especially when it comes to blocking and blitz pickup."
- Uses yoga as one of his offseason training methods so he can stay as flexible as possible.

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Registered 4,049 rushing yards and 26 touchdowns on 799 carries (5.1 average), while also contributing 683 receiving yards and four touchdowns on 79 receptions during his four-year career at Washington

DALLAS REYNOLDS 66

GUARD/CENTER

6-4, 320	Born 4/23/84 in Salt Lake City, UT
BYU	Timpview HS, Provo, UT
1st year	Acquired - Rookie FA (2009)

Dallas Reynolds is in his fourth year in Philadelphia after spending the majority of the last three campaigns on the Eagles practice squad. Originally a rookie free agent signing of the Eagles in 2009, Reynolds started 51 games at BYU and twice garnered first-team All-Mountain West honors.

IN THE TRENCHES

- How he decided to become an O-lineman: "My first year of middle school - it was the first time I played tackle football - I was a tight end. I just kept getting bigger and bigger. So I kind of fell into the spot more than that's what I wanted to become. I started to really enjoy it in high school and then I knew that's what I wanted to do."
- The best part of being on the O-line: "There's not just one or two guys that you're playing with; there are five guys. There has to be some unity and you all have to be on the same page. I think that's difficult and challenging, but I think that might be the most fun part of it. You have to be working together."
- Most underrated attribute of being on the O-line: "I think a lot of things start with the offensive line. The running backs get those big runs a lot of the times; they're athletes. But, a lot of the time, it's because of what happens in front of them. I think there are a lot of unseen things that happen on the offensive line that make the team roll."

BIRDSEED

- Claims that he has missed just one game in his entire football career. "I missed one game my junior year of high school, but that's it."
- Ventured on a church mission to Seattle, WA, five days after his high school graduation. While on the expedition, Reynolds shared the message of Jesus Christ, while providing his services. "It was really the first time I was away from home. It was a learning experience for me, going out on my own. Obviously, you're out in a big city. I learned a lot about myself in terms of taking care of myself and becoming independent. It really helped me out in aspects of my religion and my beliefs in Jesus Christ. It really shaped who I am today."

PERSONAL

- He and his wife, Suzanne, have a daughter, Sharae
- Son of Lance and Leslie Reynolds ... has three brothers and one sister ... his younger brother, Matt, was signed by Carolina as a rookie free agent in 2012
- Achieved the rank of Eagle Scout when he was 14 years old
- Favorite place to visit: Bear Lake in Garden City, UT, for water skiing and fishing
- A two-time Deseret News first-team All-State selection at Timpview HS in Provo, UT. Also, was a team captain as a senior and earned all-region honors following his junior and senior seasons

- Takes dance classes in the offseason in order to work on and improve his footwork. As part of his game day routine, eats a turkey and ham Subway sandwich before every game

A DIFFERENT KIND OF FILM WORK

Off of the football field, Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie is the Eagles biggest movie buff. While he tries to go when he can during the season, Rodgers-Cromartie goes to the movie theatres every other day in the offseason. "I don't care what kind of movie it is, if it's out and I'm there, I'll go see it," Rodgers-Cromartie said. His favorites are Troy, Love and Basketball, Mr. Brooks, Toy Story, along with any type of mystery movie. Romantic comedies and chick flicks are his guilty pleasure, and he likes A Walk To Remember, The Notebook, and Titanic.

THE CROMARTIE CONNECTION

While Rodgers-Cromartie excelled on the field when given the chance for the Tennessee State Tigers, he had to fight to get there in the first place. He attended four high schools in four years because he moved back and forth between his parents houses and his private high school's scholarship program was eliminated. Because of the shuffling, Rodgers-Cromartie was not recruited as a scholarship player at any FBS football program. He was, however, given a chance to play on scholarship at FCS Tennessee State (Ohio Valley Conference) because of then-defensive coordinator Rod Reed, who was an assistant football coach at Bethune-Cookman while his father, Stanley Cromartie, was an assistant basketball coach there. As soon as he began practicing with the team, Rodgers-Cromartie began grabbing the attention of his new teammates and coaches by making interceptions and breaking up passes. He was inserted as a starter halfway through his freshman year en route to becoming the first Tiger drafted within the first three rounds since 1990.

A sixth round draft choice of the Eagles in 2011, speedy Brian Rolle started 13 games in his rookie campaign and went on to record 63 tackles, one sack, and a forced fumble which he returned 22 yards for a touchdown. Rolle was a four-year letterman at Ohio State and a team captain as a senior, earning first-team All-Big Ten Conference honors after leading the team with 76 tackles, including 11.5 tackles for a loss, and posting 2.5 sacks and two interceptions.

BIRDSEED

His uncle owns a charter boat in Key West and Rolle goes there several times a year to fish. "I love being out on the water," said Rolle. "It's just peaceful and a place I can relax and chill out. I try and go as much as possible in my free time."

UNDERDOG ROLLE

Drafted in the sixth round of the 2011 NFL draft out of Ohio State, and often referred to as 'undersized,' Rolle opened eyes during his first year in the league with his speed and playmaking ability. Said defensive coordinator Juan Castillo: "He's athletic, even though, well he's not small but he's about 240 pounds. LINEBACKER

6-1, 247	Born 7/28/84 in Bessemer, AL
Alabama	Jess Lanier HS, Bessemer, AL
7th year	Acquired - T-Hou-12

A two-time Pro Bowl linebacker and AP All-Pro selection, DeMeco Ryans was acquired by the Eagles on 3/20/12 in a trade with the Houston Texans. A team captain while with Houston, Ryans came to the Eagles as the Texans all-time leader with 637 tackles. A true leader on and off the field, Ryans is well known for his work in the community and established the DeMeco Ryans Foundation in 2007.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Left Houston as the Texans all-time leader with 637 tackles, and led the club or tied for the team lead in tackles 30 times
- Has registered 26 double-digit tackle games in his career
- Made his second trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2009 season after making 16 starts at MLB and recording 123 tackles, one sack, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery
- Voted as a starter for the AFC Pro Bowl squad, earned a second-team AP All-Pro selection and was named the Texans team MVP following the 2007 season after leading the team with 128 tackles, while notching two sacks, one interception and a forced fumble
- Was named AP Defensive Rookie of the Year in 2006 after starting in all 16 games and leading the Texans with a career-high 156 tackles, the most by any NFL rookie that season. Also posted 3.5 sacks, one interception and a forced fumble
- Was named AFC Defensive POW vs. Oakland on 12/3/06 after leading the team with 15 tackles, and becoming the first player in Texans history to register a sack, INT, FR and FF in the same game

2011 HIGHLIGHTS (with Houston)

- Was named the Texans recipient of the Ed Block Courage Award after rebounding from an Achilles injury that shortened his 2010 season to play in all 16 games in a newly implemented 3-4 defensive scheme. Recorded 64 tackles, four pass deflections and one forced fumble
- Part of a defense that ranked among the league leaders in many categories including points per game (17.4 – 4th), yards per game (285.7 – 2nd), passing yards (189.7 – 3rd), rushing yards per game (96.0 – 4th), and sacks (44 – 6th).

BIRDSEED

- Claims the biggest influence on his life is his mother, Martha Ryans, who raised him and his three older siblings. Said Ryans: "Seeing her work so hard all her life for us, it really stuck with me. She worked two or three jobs all the time when I was growing up. That taught me about work ethic and how hard work pays off eventually. I owe her everything."

THE START OF SOMETHING SPECIAL

DeMeco's favorite personal moment in sports growing up was the first time he played linebacker in middle school. Originally a starting center on the squad, Ryans filled in for the team's MLB in the first half of a game because his teammate was forced to sit out due to a suspension. "I made every single tackle in that half," recalls Ryans. "Then when I had to go back to center in the second half, I was thinking I might need to make a position change real soon. Sure enough, the next year that change came."

THREE-STEP DROP

Greatest love besides football: God
Talent he'd most like to have: Ability to sing
Favorite athletes/teams growing up: Deion Sanders, Bo Jackson/Atlanta Braves, Alabama football
First job: A cashier at Waccamaw's Home Place
Nicknames: "Cap" - at Houston, "Coach" - at Alabama
Most played artist on his iPod: Drake
Meal: Fried pork chops, mac & cheese, greens and corn bread
TV Show: Martin
Quote: "If it was easy, everybody would do it."
Place to visit: South Beach
What he'd be doing if he wasn't playing football: Coaching

- Most under-rated attribute about playing linebacker: "You need to have smarts to play this position. A lot of people think linebackers are just a bunch of meatheads that like running into people. It's not like that at all. You need to be aware of everything that's going on, on the field and be able to communicate that to the rest of the guys on the fly."
- After his playing days are over, Ryans aspires to coach high school football. In fact, during the lockout in 2011 Ryans served as the defensive coordinator at his alma mater Jess Lanier High School during spring football
- Donates a full scholarship to a University of Alabama Football player every single year

QUOTES

- Linebackers coach Mike Caldwell on Ryans' leadership: "I think the main thing about DeMeco is he's a professional and he's a veteran. So he understands and guys see that not necessarily on the field but off the field. It's how they study, attention to detail, how dedicated he is, watching extra film. Guess what, those young guys are going to see that and see where he's come from. They're going to say, 'Okay, I'm going to do this to get there.' Naturally, you just gravitate to good players and leadership."

PERSONAL

- Recorded 135 tackles, 11 sacks, two forced fumbles and two interceptions as a senior at Jess Lanier High School, earning all-state and academic all-state honors
- Was named to both the Tuscaloosa News Sweet Sixteen and the Birmingham Post-Herald Super Senior teams
- Son of Martha Ryans and Morgan Turner. Has two older brothers and one older sister
- Earned his degree in business management

DeMeco Ryans credits his strong work ethic to inspiration from his mother, who raised him as a single parent and instilled in him the importance of education and hard work at an early age. With that in mind, DeMeco established his own foundation in 2007 with a mission to create innovative programs that provide access to educational, recreational and healthy living initiatives designed to positively aid in the development of youth.

Some of the programs include the DeMeco Ryans Leadership Academy, football/chearleading camps, and an annual scholarship competition, where he awards several students with partial scholarships to a school of their choice.

DAVID SIMS 21

SAFETY

5-9, 204	Born 10/20/86 in Gainesville, FL
Iowa State	Gainesville HS, Gainesville, FL
1st year	Acquired - T-Cle-2012

Not many youngsters realize their dream of playing in the NFL from the side of a garbage truck working for Waste Management, but David Sims is certainly one of them and is proud of his unlikely route to the NFL. Acquired in a trade with Cleveland on August 31, 2012, Sims looks to add depth to the Eagles defensive back corps and special teams units. Originally signed as a rookie free agent by the New York Giants in 2011, Sims spent the final five weeks of his rookie campaign on the Browns practice squad. After graduating from Gainesville (FL) HS, Sims worked several odd jobs before attending Butte Community College in California en route to a productive two-year career at Iowa State.

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- A two-year letterman at Iowa State, tallied 188 tackles and six interceptions in 24 games
- Named the 2009 Big 12 Defensive Newcomer of the Year
- Began collegiate career as a running back at Butte Community College in Oroville, CA in 2007

BIRDSEED

- Was a teammate of Eagles G Danny Watkins at Butte Community College. Said Sims, "When [Danny] first came there, I was playing tailback so he was blocking for me for a while there. He's a pretty good guy."
- Best influence early in life: "The person who influenced me to play [football] was my cousin. We were the the same age. He was playing Pop Warner football the year before me. I saw him play and told my parents that I wanted to play."
- Most underrated attribute: "My ability to jump. Just because I am 5-9, doesn't mean I can't jump or guard someone tall. I can still cover tight ends."

PERSONAL

- His father, Jerome Johnson, works as a barber, and his mother, Cadesha, works in a hospital
- In addition to playing football and basketball, also was a three-year letterman in track and field at Gainesville High School
- Majored in liberal studies
- On Twitter: @dsims36

GAINING PERSPECTIVE

Sims spent a year after high school working on a garbage truck with Waste Management, as an overnight stocker at Sam's Club, and found a job folding laundry at the University of Florida. "I'm very thankful for the position I am in today," said Sims about what his journey meant to him. "I was determined to get here. [Doing all those jobs] makes you think that you can't do that for the rest of your life. It's very humbling."

DARRYL TAPP

DEFENSIVE END

55

6-1, 270	Born 9/13/84 in Portsmouth, VA
Virginia Tech	Deep Creek HS, Chesapeake, VA
7th year	Acquired - Trade (Sea) 2010

A vocal, veteran presence along the front line of the Eagles defense, Darryl Tapp made valuable contributions to the defensive line rotation in 2011 as he battled through multiple injuries. Acquired via a trade with Seattle on 3/6/10, Tapp was originally a second-round draft choice of the Seahawks in 2006. While at Virginia Tech, Tapp logged 23.5 sacks and 38 tackles for a loss over a four-year collegiate career en route to an All-American nomination his senior season.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Tied a Seahawks team record with four sacks vs. StL (10/21/07), en route to a career-high seven sacks in 2007
- Recorded his first-career interception off of Jay Cutler and returned it 25 yards for a touchdown at Den. (12/3/06)

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Tied for second on the team with 7 tackles for loss (Jenkins)
- Combined with teammate Juqua Parker to record a half sack of QB Eli Manning at NYG (11/20)
- Notched a sack of QB Rex Grossman for a seven yard loss at Was. (10/16)
- Forced a fumble of Rams QB Sam Bradford at Stl (9/11), which was scooped up by teammate Juqua Parker and returned 56 yards for a touchdown. Also recorded a sack later in the game

BIRDSEED

- Acknowledges that his family has been the main influence on his life and career. "I saw how hard my Dad worked to provide for our family. My Mom inspired me because she was always so supportive and attended all of my practices and games. My brothers grew up around a lot of talented people who didn't apply themselves, so they always pushed me to become the best athlete and person that I could be."
- Trains with Rick Cox, his former high school football and track coach, at a facility called Speed by Rick Cox in Chesapeake, VA. Locally, he trains with former Eagle Tra Thomas at 7 Deuce Sports in Medford, NJ
- Began playing football in middle school, but was cut from the school sponsored teams. Played recreationally until he made the high school football team, where he began to stand out
- His workout partner happens to be his wife, Tiffany, who is a group fitness instructor in Philadelphia as well as a competitive body builder. She was heavily recruited as a softball player at Syracuse. Together, they train on the bike, run in sand, and train on the "Rocky Steps" at the Art Musuem in Philadelphia. "Her endurance is off the charts. I struggle to keep up with her sometimes."

CEDRIC THORNTON 72

DEFENSIVE TACKLE

6-4, 309	Born 6/21/88 in Star City, AR
Southern Arkansas	Star City HS, Star City, AR
1st year	Acquired - Rookie FA (2011)

Now in his second season with the Eagles, Cedric Thornton is one of only five people in history to attend Division II Southern Arkansas University and play in the NFL. After spending the majority of his rookie campaign on the practice squad, Thornton has shown a nice blend of strength and athleticism from the defensive tackle position and looks to be a valuable part of the defensive line rotation in 2012. A rookie free agent signing of the Eagles in 2011, Thornton was a two-year starter at Southern Arkansas and earned first-team All-America honors as a junior after leading the team with 80 tackles and 8.5 sacks.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- One of just five players in the history of the NFL to attend Southern Arkansas University. The other players are: S Jordan Babineaux (2004-pres.), WR Ken Brown (1987), LB David Ward (1987-1989) and DB Dennis Woodberry (1986-1988)

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- As a senior in 2010, ranked third on the team with 53 tackles, including 13 tackles for a loss, 1.5 sacks and 1 FF
- Earned first-team All-America honors as a junior in 2009 after leading the team with 80 tackles and 8.5 sacks. In addition, forced two fumbles and blocked two kicks
- His 23 tackles for a loss in 2009 led the nation

BIRDSEED

- When Thornton first started playing sports, he had aspirations of being a baseball or basketball player, but the two sports didn't really suit his physical mentality. "When I played basketball, I was a little too aggressive and basically fouled out of every game, so I decided football was probably a better fit for me."
- Played running back and wide receiver in high school, and had to tack on 45 pounds of muscle before being able to switch to defensive end as a freshman in college
- Most underrated attribute at your position: "Balance and moves. In college you can get away with bull rushing people, but at this level you need to have different moves."
- Thornton learned the value of a hard day's work when he used to pick peas by hand from 6am to 6pm for 50 dollars a day. "A lot of people don't realize that type of work still gets done, but where I grew up, that's all there was. I did that for six summers. It was exhausting."

PERSONAL

- His father, Nathaniel, is a pastor at Bethlehem #2 Missionary Baptist Church in Tarry, AR. His mother, Angela is a minister there. Growing up, Cedric was in the church choir
- Has a tattoo on the top of each of his hands - one for his son, Cedric and one for his daughter, Kaylei
- Is the middle child of five siblings. His two older brothers are Christopher and Nathaniel and his two younger sisters are Tammie and Olydia. Tammie plays basketball at Arkansas Tech
- Says the biggest influence on his career has been his parents. "They always pushed me to be the best player I could be. After games, my dad would always keep it real and help me with what things I needed to work and get better at."
- Majored in Physical Education Wellness & Leisure at Southern Arkansas. Plans to finish up his degree online in the near future
- After his playing days are over, Thornton hopes to get involved in coaching. "I love to motivate people and have an impact in their lives." In fact, Thornton often visits Star City, his former high school, to help out and work with the current players
- Enjoys playing basketball and X-Box in his free time. His favorite games to play are Call of Duty, and all of the 2k sports games. Also enjoys golf and hopes to take it up in the future
- Favorite person to follow on twitter: Michael Vick
- Follow Thornton on twitter @MrICanDueDat

MICHAEL VICK 7

QUARTERBACK

6-0, 215	Born 6/26/80 in Newport News, VA
Virginia Tech	Warwick HS, Newport News, VA
11th year	Acquired - FA (2009)

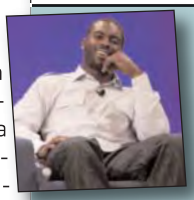
Pro Bowls: 2002, 2004, 2005, 2010

A multi-dimensional threat from the quarterback position, Michael Vick is enjoying his second phase of his NFL career in Philadelphia. A former 1st overall pick of the NFL draft in 2001 by Atlanta, Vick is a four-time Pro Bowl selection, mixing his powerful left arm with a strong work ethic and lightning-quick foot speed to lead the Eagles high-octane offensive charge. He engineered the highest scoring offense in team history in 2010 (439 points) and a team record 6,386 total net yards in 2011. He originally signed with Philadelphia in August, 2009 and inked a 6-year contract with the Eagles in 2011.

BIRDSEED

- Partners with the Humane Society to help educate and steer children away from animal cruelty. He is also forming a foundation that will benefit animal welfare programs as well as children
- Hosted a golf tournament in South Jersey last June that benefitted the Boys & Girls Clubs in Newport News, VA and in Philadelphia. "I grew up in the Boys & Girls Club," said Vick. "Thanks to them, I was able to play organized sports as a child. I want to make sure the programs continue to give children positive alternatives
- Lauded by head coach Andy Reid for setting the tone for the team during the 2012 offseason, his first as a starting QB in Philly. "He's worked like crazy. One of the reasons that we've had the attendance here that we've had and one of the reasons that we've had energy is Michael Vick. He's the one who's out here motivating that energy and making the players around him be here."

VALUABLE LESSON



Vick spoke at the Rookie Symposium in Ohio this past summer and imparted sound advice. "Football is what I was born to do," said a reflective Vick. "But football is going to go on with or without you. I learned that the hard way. You control your own destiny. You dictate how long you are going to play in the league. It's all up to you -- your commitment, dedication, preparation."

Vick holds the NFL QB rushing records for a single game (173), season (1,039 in 2006) and career (5,219). He also has the most 100-yard rushing games (11)

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Holds four of the top five single-game rushing totals by a QB since 1970, including a career-high 173 yards at Min. (12/1/02)
- With two 100+ yard rushing outings in 2010, became the first 30-year-old QB to top the century mark in NFL history. His 130 rushing yards at NYG (12/19/10) were the most ever by an Eagles QB

REMARKABLE RUN/PASS RATIO

No quarterback had ever thrown for 315 yards and rush for 75 in the same game in the history of the NFL until Vick did so in back-to-back games in weeks 4 and 5 in 2011. Vick threw for a career-high 416 yards vs. SF (10/2), while rushing for 75 yards. A week later at Buf (10/9), he threw for 315 and and rushed for 90.

- Set an NFL postseason record for a quarterback with 119 rushing yards in the 2004 NFC Divisional Playoff win vs. StL (1/15/05)
- In his first season as a starter, led the Falcons in a 27-7 upset over Green Bay in the 2002 NFC Wildcard playoff game (1/4/03), ending the Packers' undefeated playoff record at Lambeau Field

- A Newport News, VA, native, attended Warwick High School, passing for 4,846 yards and 43 touchdowns, also rushed for 1,048 yards and 18 touchdowns. Also played safety, recording 4 INTs and 75 tackles. "Playing safety taught me how to read the quarterback's eyes and understand that a guy can get an indication of what I want to do with the football."
- First started playing football at the age of 8 for the Boys Club Spartans in Newport News, VA. He played QB and RB
- Names Tommy Reamon, his high school football coach, as the person most responsible for helping him make it to the NFL, "He taught me life skills and how to communicate from a father-son perspective. I still talk to him to this day and he still helps me."
- Was drafted by the Colorado Rockies in the 30th round of the 2000 MLB draft despite not playing baseball since he was 14 years old in the 8th grade. "My friends told me about it after seeing it on SportsCenter," said Vick, a left-handed pitcher and centerfielder. "I was shocked. I considered playing, but it would have interfered too much with spring practices."
- In 2011, Vick spent a day lobbying to Congress to help pass the Animal Fighting Spectacor Prohibition Act. "Too many kids get involved in dogfighting and it's time to break this cycle," said Vick. "Animal fighting is a dead-end road for young men."
- Chosen as the commencement speaker by Philadelphia's Camelot high schools for their 2011 graduation ceremony. Camelot's schools are for over-age students who have fallen behind, dropped out or have been expelled for behavioral issues. "As you have chosen me, I have chosen you," Vick told the graduates. "I have chosen you to succeed and I believe in you."

DANNY WATKINS 63

GUARD

6-3, 310	Born 11/6/84 in Kelowna, BC
Baylor	Mount Boucherie Secondary, West Kelowna, BC
2nd year	Acquired - D1-11 (23rd overall)

After being selected with the 23rd overall pick in the 2011 NFL draft, Watkins enters his second year in Philadelphia as the starting right guard after breaking into the Eagles offensive line with 12 starts in his rookie campaign. A first-team All-Big 12 honoree while at Baylor, Watkins started playing football at age 22 while attending Butte College in Oroville, Calif., where he was recognized as one of the best junior college o-linemen in the nation.

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Named to the Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America All-Rookie team as he helped engineer an offense that set franchise records in first downs (356) and total net yards (6,386)
- He and Jason Kelce became the first Eagles rookie linemen duo to start 10-or-more games in the same season
- Was part of an offensive line that received the Madden Protector Award at NYG (11/27) and vs. Dal. (10/30). This award is given each week of the regular season to the NFL's top performing offensive line and recognizes the fundamental role offensive linemen play in their teams' success
- Made his first-career NFL start at Buf. on (10/9)

BIRDSEED

- While at Butte College, Watkins wanted to earn a scholarship and play a sport. He decided, at age 22, to step on the football field for the first time. "I always grew up playing competitive sports," said Watkins. "There wasn't a hockey rink at Butte, so I figured I'd give it a try."
- On draft day, Watkins brought a group of firemen from his hometown of Kelowna to support him. He also hosted members of the FDNY at Radio City Music Hall. He was able to meet and greet them shortly after being selected by the Eagles
- Watkins said he is amazed by the fan support he has received since coming to Philadelphia. "Wherever I go, people always stop to say hello and ask how I'm doing. It's unbelievable how passionate the fans are here. I can't believe they recognize me everywhere."
- Played hockey as a youth. "I was a true, Canadian hockey kid," said Watkins, who realized the NHL wasn't in his future at 270 pounds in the 12th grade. "The way you put your feet in the run game is similar to skating," he said. "Obviously, moving backwards in hockey was very natural to me and in pass protection. A lot has been able to carry over to my benefit."
- Was drafted with the fourth overall pick by his hometown B.C. Lions of the CFL in May of 2010, but had his sights set on the NFL

PERSONAL

- Attended Mount Boucherie Secondary School in West Kelowna, British Columbia, where he played hockey and rugby
- Son of Todd and Vicki Watkins. He has one sister, Allie, who is a school teacher in British Columbia
- Watkins credits his late stepfather, Randy Rigden, as the biggest influence on his life and career. "He always gave me guidance and encouragement, even when I didn't ask for it."

IN THE TRENCHES

- What he enjoys most about being an o-lineman: "The compassion and camaraderie with the other guys. At all levels, I've been surrounded by great teammates. Offensive linemen stick together through good and bad, just like firefighters do."
- On the most challenging aspect of the job: "Being the unknown players on the team. You only usually get noticed if something bad happens."
- Best player he has lined up against: "[Cowboys nose tackle] Jay Ratliff. He's very athletic, strong, and fast."
- Most challenging part of being his size: "Fitting into clothes."

- As a senior in 2010, earned first-team All-Big 12 honors from numerous publications after leading the team with 134 knockdowns and an average coaches' grade of 90 percent
- Started at left tackle in all 12 games in first season at Baylor as a junior in 2009, replacing All-American Jason Smith
- Averaged an 89 percent grade in 2009 from offensive line coaches and totaled 103 knockdowns in 12 games
- Was a junior college All-American offensive lineman at Butte College
- Named 2008 first-team All-America by JC Athletic Bureau as a sophomore, leading Butte to a perfect 11-0 season and 2008 California Community College Athletic Association championship

IN THE LINE OF FIRE

Watkins once served as a part-time firefighter for five years in his hometown of Kelowna, British Columbia. "It was an excuse to get out of class and go hang out at the fire station," said Watkins, who began firefighting at the age of 16. "I met those guys and I'll never forget the first day going there. It was a great bunch of guys and I remember I came home that night and told the folks, 'Listen, I'm going to be a fireman.' And they said 'Ok.'"

As soon as he was drafted by Philadelphia, Watkins made it his mission to give back to the firefighting community in the city as much as he can because he understands the sacrifice and effort they put forth. "I've done it. It's not easy to do what they have to do at times. It's nice to give them a pat on the back and acknowledge their tireless work."

1943 STEAGLES

With the shortage of manpower due to World War II, the Eagles and Steelers merged for the 1943 football season to become the Steagles. The Steagles, who finished their only season 5-4-1, split their home games between Philadelphia's Shibe Park and Pittsburgh's Forbes Field.

WHAT WAS THE PLAYOFF BOWL ?

Following the 1961 and 1966 seasons, the Eagles participated in the Playoff Bowl. If case you never heard of the Playoff Bowl, here's the scoop. From 1960-1969, the National Football League took each conference's runner-up and matched them up in a consolation game at the Orange Bowl in Miami. The Eagles, by the way, lost both of their Playoff Bowl appearances (38-10 to Detroit in 1962 and 20-14 to Baltimore in 1967).

1948 and 1949 NFL CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS

Eagles Hall of Fame Inductee: 1999

No NFL team before or since ever posted consecutive shutouts in championship play. No NFL team can claim to be more dominant over a two-year period. The Eagles won back-to-back NFL Championships in 1948 and 1949, first shutting out the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, and then blanking the Los Angeles Rams, 14-0. Under legendary head coach Greasy Neale, Philadelphia finished the 1948 regular season with a 9-2-1 record and took on the Cardinals in the championship game with a foot of snow covering Shibe Park. RB Steve Van Buren scored the game's only touchdown on a 5-yard TD run, while the defense limited the Cards to just 6 total first downs. The Eagles continued their dominance in 1949 with an 11-1 record in the regular season and a victory over the Rams in the championship game on a rain-soaked Los Angeles Coliseum field. Van Buren again led the Eagles as he rumbled for 196 yards on 31 carries. In those two seasons, the Eagles outscored their opposition 761-290. They were lovingly called "the duffel-bag dynasty." Many players were young men who had served their country in World War II and returned home trying again to settle into a regular life.

1939 — Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian's All-America quarterback, signs with the Eagles for a reported $12,000 per year salary and percentage of the gate. O'Brien plays in every game and sets NFL passing yardage record with 1,324 yards. On October 22, the Eagles play in the first televised pro football game and fell to the host Brooklyn Dodgers, 23-14, at Brooklyn Ebbets Field. Allan "Skip" Walz broadcasts the game for NBC from Ebbett's field to the approximate 1,000 TV sets then in Brooklyn.

1940 — Home playing site switches from Municipal Stadium to Shibe Park (later known as Connie Mack Stadium). Pittsburgh owner Art Rooney buys half interest in the Eagles after selling the Steelers franchise to Alexis Thompson of New York, a 30-year old heir to a six million fortune in steel stocks.

1941 — Bell and Rooney swap franchises with Thompson, Rooney returning to Pittsburgh and Thompson taking over the Eagles. Bert Bell joins Rooney as a full-time partner in Pittsburgh. Thompson hires Earl (Greasy) Neale as head coach of the Eagles.

1943 — Eagles merge with Pittsburgh Steelers to form the "Steagles" due to manpower shortage during World War II. Merger dissolved at end of season.

1944 — First draft choice Steve Van Buren debuts as Eagles' halfback. Team finishes in second place with 7-1-2 record.

1945 — Team again finishes in second place with 7-3 record and leads league in scoring with 272 points. Van Buren leads NFL with 838 rushing yards and 110 points.

1946 — Team finishes second for third straight year with 6-5 record.

1947 — Rookie end Pete Pihos, Van Buren, and Bosh Pritchard combine with an overpowering defense to lead Philadelphia into the NFL championship game for the first time but the Chicago Cardinals earn the NFL title with a 28-21 victory at icy Comiskey Park.

1948 — Eagles win their first NFL championship, defeating the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, in a blinding snowstorm at Shibe Park.

1949 — Thompson sells the team to 100 buyers, each of whom paid $3,000 for one of the 100 shares. They were called the "Happy Hundred" or the "100 Brothers." Their leader was James P. Clark, a Philadelphia sportsman and business executive, and the 100 investors included some of the leading names in Philadelphia business, government and politics, including Leonard Tose. Vince McNally is named general manager. University of Pennsylvania All-America C/LB Chuck Bednarik is a 1st round draft choice. The Eagles win their 3rd straight Eastern Division title and defend their NFL championship with a 14-0 win over the Los Angeles Rams.

1950 — In Greasy Neale's final season as the Eagles' head coach, they finish tied for third in the American Conference with a 6-6 mark.

1951 — Alvin (Bo) McMillan replaces Greasy Neale as head coach. McMillan becomes ill the night before the season opener and is replaced by Wayne Millner. End-placekicker Bobby Walston is named rookie of the year.

1952 — Jim Trimble succeeds Wayne Millner as head coach. Team rides strong defense to 7-5 second place finish.

1953 — Bobby Thomason and Adrian Burk combine to pass for a league-high 3,089 yards. Pete Pihos catches 63 passes for 1,049 yards and 10 touchdowns to lead league. Eagles finish in second place and snap Cleveland's 11-game winning streak with 42-27 win in season finale.

1954 — Bobby Walston leads league in scoring with 114 points. Eagles finish second for third consecutive year with second straight 7-4-1 record.

1955 — Pihos again leads all NFL pass receivers with 62 catches for 864 yards. Joseph A. Donoghue, Eagles' vice president/secretary, is elected assistant treasurer of the NFL.

1956 — Hugh Devore replaces Jim Trimble as head coach.

1957 — Rookie QB Sonny Jurgensen highlights a 4-8 season by passing Eagles to a 17-7 upset of the NFL Eastern Division Champion Cleveland Browns.

1958 — Buck Shaw signs as head coach replacing Hugh Devore. Eagles acquire quarterback Norm Van Brocklin in trade with Los Angeles. Team moves home games from Connie Mack Stadium to University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and attendance almost doubles.

1959 — With Pete Retzlaff and Tommy McDonald his chief targets, Norm Van Brocklin passes Eagles to 7-5 record and second place tie with Cleveland.

1960 — QB Norm Van Brocklin and Chuck Bednarik, who plays 60 minutes at center and linebacker, pace the Eagles to their first Eastern Division title in 11 years. The Birds then win their third NFL championship with a come-from-behind 17-13 victory over Green Bay at Franklin Field. Van Brocklin, the league's MVP, and head coach Buck Shaw both announce their retirements at the end of the season.

1961 — Nick Skorich is named head coach and Sonny Jurgensen takes over as the starting quarterback. Despite Jurgensen's record-setting season as a passer and a 10-4 record, the Eagles fail to repeat as division champions.

1962 — Injuries in unprecedented numbers hit Eagles as the team wins only three games and falls to last place.

1963 — RB Timmy Brown sets a then NFL record for total offense (2,436 yards; 841 rushing, 487 receiving, 11 passing, 945 kickoff returns, and 152 punt returns) in a season. With the club's 91 outstanding shares now held by 65 stockholders, club president Frank L. McNamee said it would be put up for sale with an asking price of 4,500,000. Jerry Wolman, a 36-year old builder and self-made millionaire from Washington outbid Philadelphia businessman Jack Wolgin and became the new owner. The sale price was $5,505,000.

1964 — Former Chicago Cardinals and Washington Redskins coach Joe Kuharich signs as head coach and begins a series of major trades to rebuild the club.

1966 — After extensive roster changes, the Eagles finish 9-5 for their first winning season in five years.

1967 — Quarterback Norm Snead and flanker Ben Hawkins set team passing and receiving records, respectively, but injuries to other key players contribute to a disappointing 6-7-1 record and a second place finish.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1969 — After Wolman's empire fell into serious financial trouble, a bankruptcy referee in U.S. District Court in Baltimore oversees the team's sale to Leonard Tose, a millionaire trucking executive. The price was a reported $16.1 million, at the time a record price for a professional sports team. Tose names former Eagles' receiving great Pete Retzlaff as general manager and Jerry Williams as head coach.

1971 — The Eagles leave Franklin Field for a new home at Veterans Stadium. After three consecutive crushing losses at the beginning of the season, assistant Ed Khayat replaces Jerry Williams (who had led the club to only a 3-10-1 mark in 1970) as head coach.

1972 — After a stormy 2-11-1 season, Tose accepts general manager Retzlaff's resignation and releases the entire coaching staff. A bright spot, however, is Harold Jackson who leads the NFL in receptions and receiving yards (62-1,048).

1973 — Under new coach Mike McCormick and new quarterback Roman Gabriel, the Eagles have an exciting offensive season but can muster only a 5-8-1 record. In his first year as a full-time receiver, Harold Carmichael becomes the second consecutive Eagle to lead the NFL in receptions (67).

1974 — Under newly appointed general manager Jim Murray, the Eagles trade with Cincinnati and acquire LB Bill Bergey. Bergey bolsters the defense and wins Pro Bowl honors along with TE Charle Young, who becomes the 3rd consecutive Eagle to lead the league in receptions (63).

1976 — After a 4-10 season in 1975, Tose appoints 39-year old Dick Vermeil of UCLA as head coach but the Birds again earn a 4-10 mark.

1977 — QB Ron Jaworski is obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for the rights to TE Charle Young. Bill Bergey, keying the newly-installed 3-4 defense of coordinator Marion Campbell, wins all-pro and all-conference honors and is selected to play in his third Pro Bowl.

1978 — The Eagles post a 9-7 record, their first winning season since 1966, and make the playoffs for the first time since 1960. They lose the NFC Wild Card playoff game in Atlanta, however, 14-13 as the Falcons score two 4th-quarter TDs and Eagles' Mike Michel misses a 34-yard FG try with 1:34 to play. Wilbert Montgomery, in his first starting season, rushes for 1,220 yards to become the first Eagle since Steve Van Buren to surpass 1,000 in a season. CB Herman Edwards provided the "Miracle of the Meadowlands" when he scooped up a fumbled handoff from Joe Pisarcik to Larry Csonka and raced 26 yards for the winning TD with 20 seconds left to play before a stunned Giants Stadium crowd.

1979 — With an 11-5 regular season record — their best since 1961 — the Eagles tie Dallas for first place in the NFC East and go to the playoffs as a wild card team. After beating Chicago, 27-17, in the Wild Card Game, the Birds are upset at Tampa Bay, 24-17 in a divisional playoff round. Wilbert Montgomery sets a club record with 1,512 rushing yards, and Harold Carmichael sets a then NFL record on Nov. 4, catching a pass in his 106th consecutive game. Rookie barefoot kicker Tony Franklin boots the second longest FG in NFL history — 59 yards — in a 31-21 victory at Dallas. Dick Vermeil is voted NFL coach of the year.

1980 — The Eagles win 11 of their first 12 games and go on to a 12-4 mark and the NFC East championship. The Birds trounce Minnesota 31-16, in the divisional playoff round and then upend Dallas, 20-7 at Veterans Stadium, to win the NFC title and a berth in Super Bowl XV. The Oakland Raiders prevail in that game, however, 27-10. Ron Jaworski leads the NFC with a 90.9 passing rating while throwing for 3,527 yards and 27 touchdowns. He is named NFL player of the year by the Maxwell Football Club and NFC player of the year by UPI. Harold Carmichael's then-record NFL receiving streak is snapped at 127 games when he fails to catch a pass in the regular season finale at Dallas after sustaining a back injury in the first half.

1981 — After building a 6-0 record early in the season, the Birds struggle in their final eight games, post a 10-6 record and appear in the playoffs for the fourth consecutive year but are upset at home in the NFC Wild Card Game by the NY Giants, 27-21. The Birds' defense ranks first in the NFL in fewest yards allows (4,447) and fewest points allowed (221). Harold Carmichael enjoys the third 1,000-yard receiving year of his career and Wilbert Montgomery rushes for 1,402 yards.

1982 — An NFL players' strike takes place after two games and stops play for eight weeks. When play resumes on November 21, the long layoff hurts the Eagles. After splitting their first two games of the season, the Birds come back from the strike to lose four in a row and miss the playoffs for the first time since 1977. A 24-20 Eagles' victory at Dallas on December 26 is the last victory in the Philadelphia career of head coach Dick Vermeil, who resigns shortly following the season after compiling a 55-51-0 overall record.

1983 — Marion Campbell replaces Dick Vermeil as head coach after six seasons as the Eagles' defensive coordinator. Owner and president Leonard Tose announces in January that his daughter, Susan Fletcher, the Eagles' vice president and legal counsel, would eventually succeed him as primary owner of the Eagles. After winning four of their first six games, the Eagles become mired in a seven-game losing streak and finish with a 5-11 record. The Birds' offense is highlighted by first-team all-pro and AFC-NFC Pro Bowl selection Mike Quick, who leads the league and sets club records with 1,409 yards receiving on 69 catches.

1984 — After a 1-4 start, the Eagles post a 5-5-1 record over their final 11 games. Philadelphia's swarming defense sets a then club record of 60 quarterback sacks. Wilbert Montgomery establishes the Eagles' career rushing record for yards (6,538) and attempts (1,465) surpassing the marks set by Pro Football Hall of Famer Steve Van Buren from 1944-1951. Kicker Paul McFadden establishes an Eagles' season scoring record with 116 points (tops among rookies), surpassing Bobby Walston's 30-year mark of 114, and is named NFC rookie of the year. Ron Jaworski suffers a broken leg at St. Louis in week 13, snapping his streak of 116 consecutive starts (believed to be an all-time record for NFL QBs).

1985 — On March 12, Leonard Tose, the Eagles' owner since 1969, announces an agreement to sell the team to Norman Braman and Ed Leibowitz, highly successful automobile dealers from Florida for a reported $65 million. After obtaining the approval of the other NFL owners and fulfilling the terms of the transaction, Braman officially becomes the Eagles' new owner on April 29. That same day, Braman elevates Harry Gamble, general manager since February 4, to vice president-general manager overseeing day-to-day operations of the club. All-time Eagles' rushing leader Wilbert Montgomery does not report to training camp and is traded to Detroit for LB Garry Cobb in preseason. The Eagles again overcome a 1-4 start, but fall off the pace and finish 7-9. Head coach Marion Campbell is released on December 16, and Fred Bruney takes over as interim head coach for final game at Minnesota.

1986 — Buddy Ryan, defensive coordinator of the Chicago Bears' Super Bowl XX Champions, is named the 17th head coach in Eagles' history on January 29. On July 16, Norman Braman becomes the sole owner of the team, purchasing the remaining 35 percent from his brother-in-law Ed Leibowitz. Harry Gamble is promoted to president-chief operating officer. Ryan makes sweeping changes in the Eagles' roster, keeping young players and releasing several veterans. The youthful Birds struggle to a 5-10-1 record against the toughest schedule in the league. The Birds place two players on the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl roster: WR Mike Quick and DE Reggie White. White ties a Pro Bowl record with 4 sacks and is named MVP of the game.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1987 — In March, Ron Jaworski, who set nearly every club passing record from 1977-1986, is put on waivers after the club decides not to guarantee his contract. The Eagles split their first two games of the season before the NFL was beset by a players strike. After all games of Week 3 were cancelled, the NFL resumed play with replacement teams for the next three weeks. The Birds replacement team goes 0-3 and sets the stage for a surge by the regular players when they return to work. Philadelphia's regulars proceed to win three straight after the strike and move into a tie for 2nd place in the NFC East. They go on to finish 7-8 overall (7-5 in non-strike games) and due to a tie-breaking system, rank 4th in the NFC East behind Dallas and St. Louis who also posted 7-8 marks. Offensively, WR Mike Quick earns his fifth consecutive trip to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl while QB Randall Cunningham (Pro Bowl 1st alternate) emerges as a rising talent. Cunningham threw 23 TD passes and became the first QB to lead his team in rushing (505 yards) since the Bears' Bobby Douglas did so in 1972. The defense was led by DE Reggie White, who was named the NFL's defensive player of the year. White's 21 sacks set an NFC record and fall one shy of the NFL mark.

1988 — The Eagles post the NFL's best mark (6-1) over the final seven weeks of the regular season en route to a 10-6 record and the NFC Eastern division title. But their playoff fate is not sealed until moments after the conclusion of their 23-7 victory at Dallas in week 16. It is then that NY Jets' QB Ken O'Brien throws a TD pass to Al Toon to defeat the Giants and ensure the division title for the Eagles. Philadelphia then travels to Chicago for an NFC divisional playoff game against the Bears and a place in NFL history. The game, which begins in sunny, 29 degree weather, would later be dubbed "The Fog Bowl," after a thick fog rolls off Lake Michigan late in the 2nd quarter. Due to the fog, visibility on the playing field was extremely difficult and the Bears prevail, 20-12. The shining season included the selection of QB Randall Cunningham, DE Reggie White and TE Keith Jackson as starters in the Pro Bowl. Cunningham also wins the Maxwell Football Club's Bert Bell Award as the NFL's top player. White leads the NFL in sacks for the second consecutive year and Jackson sets an Eagles' receiving record with 81 catches en route to earning rookie of the year honors from The Sporting News.

1989 — The Eagles used an aggressive, ball-hungry defense — which led the NFL in takeaways (56) and interceptions (30), and set a team record with 62 QB sacks — to finish 11-5. Philadelphia, however, finished second to the Giants in the NFC East (despite two victories in head-to-head competition) and faced the LA Rams in the Wild Card playoff. Although playing a post-season game at Veterans Stadium for the first time since 1981, the Birds fell 21-7. QB Randall Cunningham posted similar numbers to his superb '88 campaign despite missing receivers Mike Quick and Keith Jackson for most of the season due to injuries. A deeper loss came on Dec. 9, when quarterback coach Doug Scovil passed away. The second alternate to the Pro Bowl, Cunningham started for the NFC squad when injuries kept the other QBs from playing. CB Eric Allen led the NFC in interceptions with 8.

1990 — In February, Buddy Ryan hired Rich Kotite as offensive coordinator to improve the Eagles' sluggish attack. At season's end, the offense led the NFL in rushing (2,556) and the NFC in scoring (396) and TD passes (34). The defense led the NFL in stopping the run thereby making the Birds the first team to lead the league in both rushing categories since Chicago did so in 1985. A 10-6 record put Philadelphia in the playoffs once again, but the Eagles suffered their third opening round defeat in as many seasons. The 20-6 Wild Card loss to Washington signaled an end to the five-year Ryan era. Randall Cunningham flourished with 30 TD passes and 942 rushing yards, while rookie WRs Calvin Williams and Fred Barnett combined for 17 TDs.

1991 — On January 8th, team owner Norman Braman opted not to renew the contract of Buddy Ryan, the Eagles' head coach since 1986. On the same day, Braman promoted then-offensive coordinator Rich Kotite, making him the 18th head coach in club history. They opened with a 3-1 mark, their best start since 1981, despite having lost QB Randall Cunningham for the year due to a knee injury suffered at Green Bay on opening day. After coming on to lead the Eagles to their solid start, backup QB Jim McMahon was also injured in game 5. With McMahon sidelined, the Birds suffered through a four-game skid. By midseason, Philadelphia had used five quarterbacks in eight games and seen its record sink to 3-5. The Eagles regrouped, however, and surged into contention for a playoff spot with a six-game winning streak (the club's longest since the start of '81) that upped their record to 9-5. But a loss at home to Dallas in game 15 ended Philadelphia's playoff hopes. The defense finished the season ranked #1 in the NFL in terms of fewest yards allowed overall, vs. the run, and vs. the pass. As such, the Birds became only the fifth club in NFL history and the first since 1975 to accomplish this rare triple. In addition, the Eagles' defense led the NFL in sacks and fumble recoveries and tied for the league lead in takeaways. Five members of that defensive unit represented the Eagles in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl – DEs Reggie White and Clyde Simmons, DT Jerome Brown, and LB Seth Joyner were selected as starters while CB Eric Allen also made the NFC squad. The selection of White, Simmons, and Brown marked only the sixth time in NFL history that three defensive linemen from one team were elected to the Pro Bowl.

1992 — The Eagles were dealt a huge blow before the season even began as all-pro defensive tackle Jerome Brown was killed in an automobile accident on June 25th in his hometown of Brooksville, FL. The tragedy overshadowed the promise of the upcoming season which included the return of QB Randall Cunningham - out almost the entire '91 season with a knee injury - as well as the addition of RB Herschel Walker whom the Eagles acquired as a free agent just three days before Brown's death. They finished second in the NFC East with an 11-5 record and returned to the playoffs, earning a Wild Card victory over the Saints before dropping a Divisional Playoff to the eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys. The win over the Saints was the team's first postseason victory since 1981 and its first road playoff conquest since 1949. Off the field, a September 24th ruling by U.S. District Judge David Doty paved the way for free agency in the NFL by finding the league's "Plan B" policy in violation of federal antitrust laws and provided the four plaintiffs in the suit with an opportunity to sign with another club. Among those four was Eagles TE Keith Jackson, who four days later inked a deal with the Miami Dolphins.

1993 — In January, the NFL and the Players Association signed a Collective Bargaining Agreement, a 7-year deal that would institute a form of limited free agency to replace the "Plan B" system. The most prominent NFL player affected by the settlement was the Eagles' all-time sack leader Reggie White, who went on to sign with the Green Bay Packers on April 5th. On the field, the Eagles produced an 8-8 record. After a flying start in which the Birds jumped out to a 4-0 record on the strength of three consecutive dramatic come-from-behind wins, season-ending injuries to QB Randall Cunningham, WR Fred Barnett and others were followed by a six-game losing streak (their worst skid since '83). Nonetheless, backup QB Bubby Brister led them to wins in 4 of their final 6 contests, a stretch that kept them in the playoff hunt until the final week of the season.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1994 — A new chapter in Eagles history began on April 6th when Norman Braman, the team's owner since 1985, reached an agreement in principle to sell the franchise to Jeffrey Lurie, a Boston native and president of a Hollywood-based movie production company. Once NFL owners voted to approve the sale on May 6th, Lurie officially took over the club on May 17. Despite losing the opener, the Eagles won 7 of their next 8 games, including a 40-8 thumping of the eventual Super Bowl champion 49ers. However, they lost their final 7 games and finished out of the playoffs. Two days after the season, Rich Kotite's 4-year reign as head coach ended. Herschel Walker became the first player in league history to record a 90-plus yard run, reception, and kickoff return in a single season. Only one other player - Bobby Mitchell - had previously recorded that trifecta in a career. With back-to-back 100-yard rushing performances, rookie RB Charlie Garner became only the 7th back in NFL history to top the century mark in his first two contests. DE William Fuller, a free agent acquisition from Houston, notched at least one sack in 7 straight games and broke the club record of 6 shared by Reggie White and Clyde Simmons.

1995 — On February 2, Jeffrey Lurie named 49ers defensive coordinator Ray Rhodes as the 19th head coach in team history. Eleven months and a playoff victory later, that decision resulted in NFL coach of the year honors. Rodney Peete took over at QB after a 1-3 loss and led them to 9 wins in their final 12 games. RB Ricky Watters, one of the NFL's most prominent free agent acquisitions of the year, combined with Charlie Garner to give Philadelphia the league's 4th best rushing attack. In the postseason, the Eagles routed the favored Detroit Lions, 58-37, in a Wild Card game. A week later, they bowed out to the eventual Super Bowl champion Cowboys. At season's end, Watters, DE William Fuller (an NFC-high 13 sacks), and LB William Thomas (7 INTs) went to the Pro Bowl. Off the field, Lurie and his wife, Christina, oversaw the formation of Eagles Youth Partnership (EYP). The charitable wing of the Eagles, EYP was formed in order to improve the quality of life and enhance opportunities for children in the Greater Philadelphia region.

1996 — For the second consecutive year the Eagles compiled a 10-6 regular season record and earned a playoff berth. As such, Ray Rhodes became the first coach to lead the Eagles into the playoffs in each of his first two seasons at the helm. In the NFC Wild Card game, however, the Eagles fell, 14-0, to San Francisco in a rain-drenched 3Com Park. For the third time in six seasons, the Eagles lost their starting QB to injury early on as Rodney Peete ruptured a tendon in his right knee vs. Dallas. Ty Detmer led the Birds to four straight wins and teamed with WR Irving Fryar and RB Ricky Watters to fuel the conference's #1 offense (351.7 yds/game). Watters earned a Pro Bowl berth with personal bests in rushing atts. (353), rushing yards (1,411), TDs (13), and total yards from scrimmage (a league-leading 1,855). DE William Fuller led the team with 13 sacks en route to his 3rd straight Pro Bowl. MLB James Willis' interception in the end zone in the final moments of game 9 at Dallas sealed a big win. Willis' theft off QB Troy Aikman and subsequent lateral to CB Troy Vincent resulted in a 104-yard TD return.

1997 — After a 4-6 start clouded the club's shot at the post-season, the Eagles turned to 2nd-year QB Bobby Hoying. A 2-0-1 record in his first three starts brought them back into contention, but ended the year with a 6-9-1 record. Injuries plagued the club as 42 different players started, including three different QBs (Ty Detmer, Rodney Peete and Hoying). Irving Fryar posted 86 receptions and Ricky Watters became the first Eagle to top the 1,000-yard rushing plateau in three consecutive years. The defense's most memorable performance came in a win vs. Green Bay as they held the Pack without a TD, snapping a string of 85 games (incl. playoffs) in which they had scored a TD.

1998 – A disappointing 3-13 season led to the dismissal of head coach Ray Rhodes on December 28th, one day after the season finale. The Eagles started 0-5 before posting their first win. Duce Staley became the first Eagle draft pick to top the 1,000-yd. rushing plateau since Wilbert Montgomery (1981). On defense, the Eagles procured DE Hugh Douglas in a trade with the Jets. Douglas led the Eagles with a career-high 12.5 sacks, including a club-tying record of 4.5 at San Diego.

1999 – Former Green Bay quarterback coach Andy Reid was named head coach on January 11th. Three months later, the club used the 2nd overall draft choice to select QB Donovan McNabb, one of the most accomplished athletes to ever come out of Syracuse. Their 2-7 start prompted Reid to insert McNabb into the starting lineup for six of the final seven contests. In his first start on Nov. 14th vs. Washington, McNabb sparked the Eagles to a 35-28 win over the Redskins. RB Duce Staley garnered his second straight 1,000-yd. rushing season and accounted for a NFL-best 41% of his team's offense. New defensive coordinator Jim Johnson turned up the heat as his troops accounted for a league-best 46 take-aways, including 28 interceptions (3rd in NFL), five of which were returned for TDs (a team record). FS Brian Dawkins and CB Troy Vincent earned their first Pro Bowl selections. Vincent's 7 INTs tied for the league lead and became the first Eagle to top the entire NFL in INTs since 1972 (Bill Bradley). Although the Eagles finished 5-11, Reid implemented a positive attitude in his young group of players that included 14 true rookies on the season-ending roster.

2000 – Andy Reid, the NFL's coach of the year, led the Eagles to the greatest turnaround in franchise history, finishing 2nd in the NFC East at 11-5. The season started with a perfectly executed onsides kick by David Akers to kickoff the season opener at Dallas, leading to a 41-14 win. The Eagles won 10 of their next 13 contests and earned the top Wild Card spot in the NFC. In the playoffs, the Eagles overwhelmed Tampa Bay, 21-3, before losing to the eventual NFC Champion NY Giants in the Divisional Playoffs. After RB Duce Staley went down for the season with a foot injury in game 5, Donovan McNabb became a legitimate MVP candidate (he finished 2nd in AP voting to Rams RB Marshall Faulk). McNabb accounted for 74.6% of the team's total net yards. TE Chad Lewis led all NFC tight ends in receptions (69) and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. The defense featured 3 Pro Bowlers in CB Troy Vincent, DE Hugh Douglas (15 sacks, 2 in playoffs), and MLB Jeremiah Trotter. First round draft choice DT Corey Simon recorded a rookie team-record 9.5 sacks.

2001 — The Eagles captured their first NFC Eastern Division Championship since 1988 and their first appointment in the NFC title game since 1980. Adversity hit this club early and often. The first preseason game was cancelled due to problems with the Veterans Stadium turf. C Bubba Miller was lost to a season-ending foot injury. And they dropped their season opener in overtime to the Rams before true adversity devastated the entire world on September 11th when terrorist attacks struck the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. As a result, a week's worth of NFL games were postponed. The Eagles were 2-2 before beating the Giants, 10-9, on Monday Night Football for the first time since 1996 (a span of nine games). The Eagles won 8 of their last 10 games, including a dramatic 24-21 win over the Giants on December 30 to clinch the NFC East title. In the playoffs, the Eagles defeated the Bucs and in the Divisional playoffs, Donovan McNabb won his homecoming to to Chicago, 33-19, at Soldier Field. The Pro Bowlers on defense were Hugh Douglas, Jeremiah Trotter, Troy Vincent, and Brian Dawkins. The unit allowed a league-low 64 points in 8 road games. In fact, their 7-1 road record was the best in club history. David Akers earned his first Pro Bowl berth and set a club record with 17 consecutive FGs made.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

2002 — In the 31st and final season at Veterans Stadium, the Eagles set a team record for points scored (415) and sent a league-high 10 players to the Pro Bowl. However, they fell in the NFC Championship game for the second consecutive season. Andy Reid, the consensus coach of the year, proved the Eagles were not a one-man show, winning five of six games without Donovan McNabb (broken ankle). McNabb returned for the playoffs and directed a win in the Divisional playoff after 3rd QB A.J. Feeley started the final five games, winning his first four. Although the Eagles lost their season finale to the Giants, they were still able to clinch home field after the Jets trounced the Packers in the same stadium one day later. The defense finished in the top five in numerous categories and sent four players to the Pro Bowl: CB Troy Vincent, CB Bobby Taylor, FS Brian Dawkins, and DE Hugh Douglas. The offensive line also featured multiple Pro Bowl selections for the first time since 1980 with Tra Thomas, Jon Runyan and Jermane Mayberry. Kicker David Akers notched 133 points to earn a Pro Bowl berth.

2003 — In a season marred with injuries and controversy, the Eagles captured their third consecutive NFC East division title and third straight trip to the NFC title game, a loss to Carolina. Lincoln Financial Field officially became the Eagles new nest with a season-opening Monday night contest vs. Tampa Bay. But the Eagles not only lost their first two contests, they were left without the services of DBs Brian Dawkins and Bobby Taylor for a large chunk of the season (foot injuries). Then LB Carlos Emmons (ankle) and Brian Westbrook (triceps) were felled by season-ending ailments in December. After a 2-3 start, the Eagles rattled off nine straight wins, tying a team record previously set in 1960. That win streak was propelled by an improbable win at NYG on October 19. Trailing the Giants 10-7 with 1:34 to play, Westbrook returned a punt 84 yards for a dramatic, game-winning score. They ended up earning home-field advantage in the playoffs for the 2nd straight season. After suffering through a QB rating of 51.1 in the first six games, a thumb injury in his throwing hand, and disgraceful, racial commentary by former ESPN analyst Rush Limbaugh following the 0-2 start, McNabb thrived. He garnered NFC offensive player of the month honors in November, leading the team to a 5-0 month. He engineered a come-from-behind playoff win vs. Green Bay before suffering a rib injury a week later vs. Carolina that sidelined him in the 4th quarter. The Eagles employed a unique running back trio (Westbrook, Correll Buckhalter, and Duce Staley), dubbed the "three-headed monster," that racked up 1,618 rushing yards, 2,465 total yards from scrimmage, and 29 total TDs.

2004 — One of the most eventful off-seasons in team history helped propel the Eagles to their first NFC Championship and subsequent Super Bowl appearance in 24 years. Although they lost a hard-fought battle to the Patriots, 24-21, in Jacksonville, the Eagles milestones were plentiful as they captured their 4th consecutive NFC East division title and won a franchise record 13 regular season games. Andy Reid became the winningest coach in franchise history surpassing Greasy Neale. On the first day of the free agent signing period, they inked DE Jevon Kearse and later acquired WR Terrell Owens in a trade. Owens ended up with 77 catches for 1,200 yards and 14 scores. Donovan McNabb also turned in a stellar campaign, completing 64% of his passes for 3,875 yards, 31 TDs and just 8 INTs for a career-high 104.7 QB rating. He became the first player in NFL history to finish a season with 30+ TD passes and fewer than 10 INTs and his 24 consecutive completions over a span of two games set an NFL record previously set by Joe Montana (22) in 1987. McNabb, Owens, Brian Westbrook and Tra Thomas earned Pro Bowl berths on the offense. The defense was led by Kearse, a trio of Pro Bowl defensive backs (Brian Dawkins, Michael Lewis, and Lito Sheppard), and Jeremiah Trotter, who earned a Pro Bowl berth despite not starting until game 9. Trotter returned in July after being released by the Redskins. K David Akers, who set a NFL record with 17 FGs of 40-yards-or-more, and LB Ike Reese both earned Pro Bowl berths on special teams. In all, a league-best 10 Eagles earned trips to Hawaii. The Eagles stormed out to a 7-0 record and clinched the NFC East title with 5 games remaining. They clinched home field advantage in the NFC after starting 13-1. In the playoffs, the Eagles topped Minnesota in the Divisional round and Atlanta in the Championship game.

2005 — Stymied by injuries and a plethora of off-the-field distractions, the Eagles finished with a 6-10 record and out of the playoffs for the first time since 1999. The defending NFC champions began the season with a 4-2 record, including a dramatic come-from-behind win at Kansas City in which they overcame a 27-6 first half deficit to win, 37-31, and an equally heart-stopping victory vs. San Diego in which Matt Ware returned a blocked field goal 65 yards for the game-winning touchdown late in the fourth quarter. WR Terrell Owens was suspended for four games for conduct detrimental to the team and ended up not playing in the final nine games of the season. MLB Jeremiah Trotter earned his fourth Pro Bowl berth with a team-high 169 tackles. Reggie White's #92 was officially retired in an emotional halftime ceremony of a Monday night contest vs. Seattle on December 5. The ceremony included Reggie's wife, Sara, and their two children, as well as more than 20 of his former teammates and coaches.

2006 — The Eagles claimed their fifth NFC East title in six years as they reeled off five consecutive wins at the end of the regular season to finish 10-6. The Eagles jumped out of the gate with a 4-1 record. The hot start was capped off by an emotional 38-24 victory vs. Dallas on Oct. 8, when Lito Sheppard made two crucial INTs, the second of which he returned 102 yards for a touchdown in the waning seconds. However, the team then lost five of their next six contests and Donovan McNabb for the remainder of the season with a torn ACL, which he suffered in a Nov. 19 loss to Tennessee. Jeff Garcia was handed the reins, and after a devastating 45-21 loss at Indianapolis, rallied the Eagles to five straight wins. The Eagles swept a treacherous three-game road stretch against division rivals, including a Christmas Day win at Dallas. The following week, Andy Reid was able to rest his starters in the season finale vs. Atlanta when news arrived in the 1st quarter that they had clinched the NFC East title with a Cowboys loss to Detroit. The Eagles used a 38-yd. walk-off field goal by David Akers to capture a 23-20 Wild Card victory against the Giants, but came out on the losing end of a 27-24 battle at New Orleans in the Divisional round. Brian Dawkins, Shawn Andrews and Lito Sheppard earned Pro Bowl berths. Brian Westbrook tallied his first 1,000-yard rushing season and the offensive line was one of two squads in the NFL to start the same five linemen in all 16 games.

2007 — In the team's 75th anniversary season, the Eagles could not overcome a 1-3 start as they finished 8-8 and out of the playoffs. RB Brian Westbrook set two team records for total yards from scrimmage (2,104) and receptions (90). He became the first Eagle to lead the league in total yards from scrimmage since 1996 (Ricky Watters) and the first NFL player from a non-Division I-A school to do so since 1979 (Philadelphia's Wilbert Montgomery). WR Kevin Curtis posted career highs in catches (77), yards (1,110), and total touchdowns (8) in his first season in Philadelphia after signing as a free agent. For the first time in franchise history, the Eagles featured three players (Westbrook, Curtis, Reggie Brown) with over 60 catches and 700 yards each. After that 1-3 start, the team managed to fight their way back to a 5-5 record as they headed into Gillette Stadium to face the 10-0 New England Patriots. A valiant effort by back-up QB A.J. Feeley went for naught as the Eagles fell, 31-28. Westbrook and Shawn Andrews earned Pro Bowl honors.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

2008 — The Eagles were defeated in their fifth NFC Championship game appearance of the decade. In what seemed like a microcosm of their entire season, Philadelphia fell behind 24-6 in the NFC title game at Arizona, but stormed back to take a 25-24 lead, only to then have the Cardinals score the game-winning TD with under three minutes to play. The Eagles struggled to find consistency during the early portion of the season and hit rock bottom at 5-5-1 after a 36-7 blowout loss at Baltimore. But they rallied back into playoff contention entering the final week. They entered the final Sunday of the season needing a win over Dallas, a Tampa Bay loss to visiting Oakland and either a Chicago loss at Houston or a Minnesota loss vs. the Giants, to earn a playoff berth. The Raiders and Texans came up with thrilling upsets in the 1:00 pm games that day, before the Eagles pounded the division-rival Cowboys, 44-6, in a late afternoon contest. In the playoffs, the Eagles stingy defense carried them to impressive road victories at Minnesota (26-14) and in a rematch at New York (23-11) before being derailed by the Cardinals. Brian Dawkins and free agent newcomer CB Asante Samuel (4 interceptions in the regular season plus two in the playoffs) both earned Pro Bowl honors, while McNabb became the franchise's all-time leader in yards and touchdown passes. Dawkins became the franchise's all-time leader in interceptions (34), tying Eric Allen and Bill Bradley. K David Akers set team records for points (144) and field goals made (33). Head coach Andy Reid became the 37th coach in NFL history to reach the 100-win plateau and the 14th coach to reach double digit victories in playoff history. Samuel set an NFL postseason record with his 4th INT returned for a score and rookie WR DeSean Jackson led the team with 62 receptions and 912 yards, most ever by an Eagles rookie WR.

2009 — The Eagles got off to a strong start, winning five of their first seven games, despite losing QB Donovan McNabb for two games with a rib injury. They hit a midseason snag after losing back-to-back games to rival Dallas and eventual AFC West Champion San Diego to fall to 5-4. A late-season rally helped the Eagles rattle off six straight wins, their longest-such streak in the regular season since 2003. Entering the final week of the season, Philadelphia had hopes of securing its sixth NFC East title of the decade and a first-round bye in the playoffs. However, a second loss to the Cowboys in the season finale dropped the Eagles to the sixth seed and forced a rematch between the two bitter, division rivals in the Wild Card round of the playoffs, where they again fell to the Cowboys, 34-14. Led by DeSean Jackson (62 receptions, 1,156 yards and 9 TDs), the Eagles saw their young skill position players flourish. The speedy WR/KR became the first player in NFL history to be named to the Pro Bowl at two positions, recording an NFL record-tying eight touchdowns of 50-plus yards and leading the league with a 15.2 yard punt return average. TE Brent Celek (76 receptions, 971 yards, 8 TDs) established himself as a reliable weapon and one of the elite tight ends in the NFL. The infusion of young players on offense continued with rookie WR Jeremy Maclin (D1-09) and rookie RB LeSean McCoy (D2-09). Maclin followed in Jackson's footsteps, finishing his first season as one of the top rookie wide outs with 56 catches for 773 yards and four touchdowns. Meanwhile, McCoy proved to be a valuable asset in the running game as he led the team and set the Eagles rookie rushing record with 637 yards. K David Akers, DE Trent Cole, T Jason Peters, CB Asante Samuel, FB Leonard Weaver, and LS Jon Dorenbos all joined Jackson in earning Pro Bowl honors. Head coach Andy Reid contract's was extended through 2013.

2010 — The Eagles set franchise records for points (439) and total net yards (6,230) en route to an NFC East Division title, their 6th under head coach Andy Reid. Philadelphia met the eventual Super Bowl champion Packers in the Wild Card round, but lost, 21-16, at home. QB Michael Vick emerged as one of the NFL's top quarterbacks after taking over for an injured Kevin Kolb in the season opener. In his first year as a starter since 2006, he achieved career highs in passing TDs (21), yards (3,018), QB rating (100.2), comp. % (62.6) and rushing TDs (9) - earning him a trip to Hawaii as the NFC's starting quarterback in the Pro Bowl. He became only the 2nd QB in NFL history to throw for 3,000+ yards, rush for 500+ yards, and accrue a 100+ QB rating in a season. Vick had plenty of weapons surrounding him on the league's second-ranked offense. DeSean Jackson (47 receptions, 1,056 yards and 6 TDs) led the league in yards per catch (22.5) and became the first player in league history to return a punt for a game-winning touchdown as time expired on 12/19/10, capping off a historic comeback against the Giants. The Eagles trailed 31-10 with 8:17 remaining in the 4th quarter, but rallied for four touchdowns, including Jackson's miraculous return. WR Jeremy Maclin (70 receptions, 964 yards and 10 TDs) led the team in TDs and was second on the team in receptions and receiving yards. The duo combined for 2,020 yards, which was the 3rd-most output of any WR duo in the NFL. RB LeSean McCoy was fourth in the NFL in yards from scrimmage (1,672). CB Asante Samuel finished 2nd in the league in INTs (7) despite only playing in 11 games. David Akers, Jackson, T Jason Peters and Samuel all were selected to the Pro Bowl alongside Vick.

2011 — The Eagles finished the 2011 campaign 8-8, second in the NFC East. The offense was fueled by running back LeSean McCoy, who rushed his way into the Eagles record books by scoring 20 total touchdowns, including 17 on the ground, breaking the team records set by Hall of Fame back Steve Van Buren in 1945. A Pro Bowl selection for the first time, McCoy established new career-highs running the ball 273 times for 1,309 yards. His yardage total was the fifth-most in team history and ranked fourth in the NFL. The offense set franchise records with 6,386 total yards and 356 first downs. Quarterback Michael Vick set career marks in attempts (423), completions (253) and yards (3,303) while becoming the second player in league history (former Eagle Randall Cunningham) to surpass the 3,000-yard passing mark and 500-yard rushing plateau in consecutive seasons. Along the way, he surpassed Cunningham's all-time benchmark for rushing yards by a quarterback. For the first time in franchise history, the Eagles boasted three players (wide receivers DeSean Jackson, Jeremy Maclin and tight end Brent Celek) with 800+ receiving yards in the same season. On defense, the Eagles tied for the league lead with 50 sacks, including 18 from free agent signee defensive end Jason Babin (third in the NFL) and 11 from fellow DE Trent Cole. Their 29 combined sacks were the second most in team history by a duo, bested only by Reggie White and Clyde Simmons (33 in 1992). Babin earned his second straight Pro Bowl berth for his efforts. Left tackle Jason Peters also earned Pro Bowl honors for the fifth straight year, the last three coming in Philadelphia.
